

FEAR JUGOSLAVIA-HUNGARY BREAK

Holiday Business Over Nation Shows Big Increase

SALES HEAVY AND SEASON OPENS EARLY

United Press Survey in 25 Cities from Coast to Coast Reveals Buying INCREASE 16 PERCENT

Toy Buying in Chicago is Greatest Since 1929; Purse Strings Opened (Copyright, 1934, by United Press) NEW YORK, Dec. 7.—(UP)—Christmas stockings will sag under a load some 16 per cent heavier this year than last.

The holiday spirit is pulling itself out of the morass of necessities, and again will find expression in red wagons and climbing monkeys, silks and ties, diamonds and silverware.

A United Press survey in 25 cities from coast to coast and border to border shows that Christmas trade is running as much as 53 per cent higher than it was last year. The average estimate by merchants was 16.3 per cent.

Already the festoons of holly, the figures of Santa going down a chimney, are in the windows. The crowd look, they go in to buy. Purse strings hitherto held taut by sterner needs are loosening for a more substantial greeting than the gaily-colored Yule cards have been carrying.

Sales Increased
Where a plaid dress sufficed last year, an evening gown will be on the tree this season. Oriental rugs, furnishings, lamps, jewelry and leather goods were in demand in the New York metropolitan area. Retail sales there were estimated to exceed those of the corresponding week last year by 12 to 15 per cent.

In Washington, Christmas business started 10 days earlier than in 1933 and trade was running ahead as much as 30 per cent above 1933.

PLANE DESIGNER IS INTERNED IN GREECE

ATHENS, Dec. 7.—(UP)—Anthony H. K. Fokker, world famous airplane designer, was forbidden to leave the country today after discovery of photographs which he was alleged to have taken of an arsenal and other fortified places, it was announced.

Fokker is 44. He started his career as an aeronaut at 20, in his native Netherlands, but finding his opportunities restricted he went to Germany. He manufactured for the German air force in the world war the planes that made their name, Fokker, dreaded in allied countries. He invented a synchronizing device to permit firing a machine gun while the whirling blades of an airplane propeller. In recent years he has spent much time in the United States.

And the shepherds came with haste and found Mary and Joseph; then, also the baby, lying in the manger; and they made known abroad all that which had been told to them concerning the child.

SHOPPING DAYS UNTIL CHRISTMAS

MOVE LAUNCHED FOR OUTDOOR CHRISTMAS TREE DECORATING CAMPAIGN THROUGHOUT CITY

LAUNCHING the first concerted effort to beautify the city of Santa Ana during the Christmas season and in line with Yule lighting programs carried out in other cities, a plan was announced today to stage a prize award contest for the best-decorated and lighted outdoor Christmas trees at residences in the city.

Suggested by Phil M. Brown, manager of the Business Men's Association of Santa Ana, the plan is being sponsored by the Edison Women's committee, comprised of women employees of the Southern California Edison company, with prizes being donated by the women themselves.

The committee started activities at once today, entering into the plan with enthusiasm and hopes of making Santa Ana the most colorful spot in Southern California over the Christmas season. Letters were addressed to various organizations of the city, asking for active cooperation in making the event an outstanding success.

Two beautiful prizes, an electric waffle iron and an electric casserole, on display at the Edison office at 208 North Main street, will be awarded the winners of the lighted outdoor living Christmas tree contest. These prizes will be awarded in two divisions, one for living Christmas trees more than 12 feet in height and another for trees smaller. This plan was adopted to permit persons with smaller trees to have a fair chance of winning the prize with a miniature.

The trees will be judged Saturday night, December 22, and the prizes will be awarded Monday, December 24. Three judges will be chosen, to be selected from among civic leaders of Santa Ana. Names of the judges will be announced later.

Last year there were more than 200 lighted living Christmas trees in Santa Ana, with no effort made to interest residents of the city in a Christmas lighting program. Anne Goltzbach, president of the Edison Women's committee, and Thelma Leonard, secretary, are directing details of the program.

NEW BLIZZARD SWEEPING OVER MIDDLE WEST

Thousand Labors to Clear Highways as Temperatures Drop Sharply

CHICAGO, Dec. 7.—(UP)—A new snow-laden gale howled eastward from the Northern Rocky Mountains today while thousands of men still labored to clear streets and highways of the heaviest December snowfall in weather bureau history.

Temperatures fell to the lowest points of the season—12 degrees in Chicago, 13 in Des Moines, zero in Duluth, 6 in Sioux City and 5 in Huron, S. D.

The new blizzard, swirling over Kansas, Missouri, Nebraska and the Dakotas, grounded airplanes and hampered rail and motor traffic.

Minnesota, smothered by 15 inches of snow this week, expected another substantial layer today. Hundreds of men worked with huge snowplows through the night to open highways before the new storm struck.

Chicago, shivering before a 12-degree north wind, was warned to expect an addition to 6.5 inches of snow that fell Wednesday night and yesterday. It was the heaviest December snow in 45 years.

Almost 4000 men, most of them on relief rolls, got temporary employment clearing streets.

The snow was a boon to farmers of the plains region which suffered most severely in last summer's drought. Three to fifteen inches lay today over most of Wisconsin, Minnesota, the Dakotas, Iowa, Illinois, Missouri, Nebraska, Kansas and the northern tier of mountain-range states. Melting slowly later, it will replenish much of the vanished moisture in the subsoil.

CHRISTMAS LIQUOR HIJACKED BY GANG

DEDHAM, Mass., Dec. 7.—(UP)—A truck loaded with choice liquors and Christmas merchandise valued at several thousand dollars was hijacked and the driver kidnapped by four men today.

The driver, Robert Taylor, 34, was thrown to the roadside at Blue Hills reservation. The Bay State Motor Express company, his employers, notified police.

According to Taylor's story, he was stopped on the Providence super highway by four men in a touring car. Two overpowered him, threw him into the tonneau of the machine, covered him with a blanket and sped away. The other two drove the truck which carried 250 cases of choice liquors.

SEARCH FOR LOST FLIERS IS CONTINUED IN STORMY SEAS

Little Hope Is Held Out By Searchers

Most of Searchers Today Feel Task Hopeless But Continue Hunt

HONOLULU, T. H., Dec. 7.—(UP)—A storm bringing heavy seas and rain made the U. S. Navy's task more difficult today in its apparently hopeless search for a transoceanic airplane which fell into the ocean near the island of Oahu.

The sudden change from calm, rainless weather to a storm of threatening proportions may hasten the decision to abandon the extensive search for Capt. Charles T. P. Ulm, George Littlejohn, and Leon Skilling, occupants of the luckless monoplane Stella Australis.

Rear Admiral Harry Yarnell, Rear Admiral Sinclair Gannon and Commander E. Wayne Tod, directing various units of the search, will decide the navy's future plans at a conference at Pearl Harbor.

While most of the searchers feel their task is hopeless, private agencies are urging the sea forces to exhaust every possibility before calling in the score of ships scouring the seas north of the island.

Those citizens who declare that the search should be continued indefinitely recalled that Lt. Com. John Rodgers and four companions were not found until 10 days after their seaplane had fallen into the sea on a flight similar to the one in which Ulm and his companions tried to reach Honolulu from Oakland, Cal.

As the hunt for the lost fliers enters its fourth day, most authorities believed that the Stella Australis had plummeted straight to the bottom of the ocean when it made a forced landing Tuesday.

The navy carried on through the storm during the night. Eleven boats fought the waves to the northward of Oahu, in the general belief that Ulm had overshot his mark and had landed in the Kauai channel into which Rodgers also had dropped.

Vice-Admiral Isoroku Yamamoto, chief Japanese technical delegate in the London conferences, analyzed the officially approved Davis speech and expressed disagreement with its conclusions.

In doing so he admitted tacitly that the formation of the state of Manchukuo from Chinese Manchuria was not absent from the minds of Japanese statesmen when they decided to denounce the Washington treaty and demand absolute naval equality.

"I do not consider," Admiral Yamamoto said, "that Manchukuo was the immediate reason for Japan's demand for revision of the treaty. However, a sponsor for Manchukuo, we feel the responsibility for protecting Manchukuo from possible Russian and Chinese encroachments."

Davis based his speech on the "equality of security" principle. That is, that a nation with long sea frontiers and far away island possessions needs a larger navy with which to defend its own property and citizens than does a nation, like Japan, whose inherent national interest are confined within a small area.

American naval desires, as expressed in Davis' speech, would involve a reduction in the strength of fleets, Admiral Yamamoto said, but was at the same time said.

COMMUNIST ARMY ROUTED IN CHINA

SHANGHAI, Dec. 7.—(UP)—General Liu Chien Hsu, commanding the first route army in a campaign against Communists, today claimed 10,000 enemy soldiers had been killed in two critical battles within the last several days.

General Liu reported the enemy in flight toward Yuchaping after fierce fighting in which the national government soldiers and the battered hungry horde of "Reds" had battled hand to hand in the Kwangsi and Hunan areas.

The victories claimed by the government leader were the most smashing in the long campaign to suppress revolt within the republic. Meanwhile reports of a new uprising in rich Szechuen province, to which many routed rebels have fled, gave Marshal Chiang Kai Shek and his generals grave concern.

REPORT 200 IN SOVIET RUSSIA SHOT TO DEATH

Reprisals for Murder of Sergei Kirov Reported by Warsaw Press

LONDON, Dec. 7.—(UP)—The Daily Express, in a dispatch without confirmation from official sources, credited to its Warsaw correspondent today an assertion that 200 persons had been shot in Leningrad and Moscow in reprisal for the murder of Sergei Kirov.

The Daily Express said that those shot included Leonid Micoliev, Kirov's assassin; his wife, sons, daughters and mother.

Josef Stalin, the Daily Express reported, ruthlessly continued the "purge" against enemies of the government yesterday.

It was asserted that there was a desperate gun fight in Leningrad in which 10 persons were killed. The fight occurred, it was said, when members of the Leningrad garrison "rushed" to assist Moscow secret police agents who had been sent to arrest members of the Leningrad secret police force.

Warsaw and other capitals around Russia's frontier are now "rattled" by wild rumors regarding Russia.

The last score dispatch from Warsaw was published in London Monday. It reported the execution of 19 Russian army officers within an hour of discovery of "traces" of an organization which planned to assassinate all Soviet leaders simultaneously.

Nothing further was heard of the report, which was dismissed as nonsense at Moscow. The United Press correspondent at Warsaw after thorough investigation reported that no such rumors had even circulated there.

WIFE SLAYER PAYS PENALTY IN CHAIR

SAN QUENTIN PRISON, Calif., Dec. 7.—(UP)—Leo Dwight Murphy, 42, former cell mate of David Lamson in San Quentin's death house, was hanged on the prison gallows here today for the murder of his bride seven years ago.

The trap was sprung at 10:03 a. m. nine minutes after Murphy was pronounced dead by the prison physician.

Murphy went to his death calmly, marching with two guards, from the death "cage," adjacent to the gallows room.

U. S. MODIFIES STAND AGAINST LEAGUE ACTION

Agrees to Partial Co-operation in Efforts to End Bolivian War

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—(UP)—The United States today modified its obdurate stand against any participation by the League of Nations in settlement of purely American affairs, and agreed to partial cooperation with the league in another attempt to bring peace to the Gran Chaco.

Secretary of State Cordell Hull, in a formal note to the league, advised that the United States will cooperate in the purely American phases of efforts to negotiate a cessation of the war between Paraguay and Bolivia.

The United States, Hull said, can not participate in the Geneva end of the Chaco peace plan, which includes establishment of a league advisory committee comprising 25 members, many representatives of European and other non-American countries.

Hull's note was in reply to two separate invitations from the league body, requesting this country to participate in the Chaco plan.

Hull advised that the United States will not participate in the labors of the advisory committee, which is meeting in Geneva, because this would be contrary to American policy.

GENEVA, Dec. 7.—(UP)—The United States has accepted membership on the supervisory committee which will convene in Buenos Aires to aid the effort to arrange a lasting peace between Bolivia and Paraguay, it was announced today.

An invitation to join the advisory committee on the Gran Chaco war, which meets here, was declined, as expected. The United States does not want to be involved in political aspects of the Bolivian-Paraguayan dispute.

Formal Charges
Jugoslavia's formal charges against Hungary, fraught with dynamite to the international situation, are before the council for consideration.

Jevtic in his speech declared the Hungarian government itself aided the band of assassins who, from their base at Jankaputa, in Hungary, sent out messengers of death to kill King Alexander and Foreign Minister Louis Barthou of France at Marseilles.

"The facts on which the Jugoslavian government based these accusations," Jevtic said, "are such that they clearly establish the responsibility of certain Hungarian authorities and those of the Hungarian government itself."

He accused the Hungarian authorities of protecting the terrorists, the real headquarters of the terrorists, being the starting point of the action against Jugoslavia.

"MAD SNIPER" ENDS LIFE WITH SHOTGUN

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 7.—(UP)—Ending a race of terror through San Gabriel valley towns, in which he wounded two men and fired on a woman, Charles J. Downey, 31, "mad sniper," killed himself with a shotgun in Alhambra today.

The suicide ended a widely organized hunt for Downey, paroled inmate of Paton State hospital, who drove through the valley firing on his victims without warning or provocation.

He left Fred Zeiss, a neighbor, of East San Gabriel, critically wounded. He shot E. B. Brewer, Arcadia service station operator. In one arm, and a woman, whose name was not given, reported she was fired on without warning as she walked on Colorado boulevard in Pasadena.

Tales of Suffering Told By Women and Children Sent Out of Jugoslavia

(Copyright, 1934, by United Press) GENEVA, Dec. 7.—(UP)—The League of Nations Council today took up the task of preventing a break between Jugoslavia and Hungary, in the hope their bitter dispute could be submitted to impartial negotiators.

League councillors, moving delicately because they feared a crisis-detonating dispute across the council table between Jugoslavian and Hungarian delegates, hoped to arrange an investigation. They also hoped to report on Jugoslavia's complaint that Hungary sheltered the assassin of King Alexander and the Hungarian protest against Jugoslavia's expulsion of Hungarian citizens.

Roguljub Jevtic, Yugo Slavia foreign minister, bitterly denounced Hungary before the council of the League of Nations today, charging the nation with complicity in the Marseilles assassinations.

NO TRACE FOUND OF L. A. TRUNK SLAYER

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 7.—(UP)—From a welter of neighborhood gossip, police today tightened the chain of circumstantial evidence about John H. Happel, missing husband of Rosebella Happel whose dismembered body was found stuffed in a trunk in a shed at the rear of their bungalow court home.

The 53-year-old stationary engineer, a partial cripple, was linked more closely with the murder, according to police, by reports of neighbors that he once said: "She's driving me crazy. It would be better if I went down and jumped in the ocean. I'm afraid sometimes I'll kill her."

BUSINESS OVER NATION SHOWS HUGE INCREASE

Toy buying in Chicago was reported the heaviest since 1929. Stores already have put on more clerks to handle the rush. Particularly impressive was a demand for "quality" merchandise.

One concern in San Francisco indicated its volume of trade was "nearly double" that of last year. "Substantially greater" was the tenor of reports which merchants declined to make more specific.

Sensational Gain
Two of Atlanta's largest department stores reported trade about 25 per cent ahead of 1933. The most sensational report came from Memphis, where five department stores reported sales from 20 to 53 per cent better than at this time last year.

A Dallas department store whose sales were $305,000 last November took in $446,000 in the same month of 1934. Christmas trade began before Thanksgiving; last year it was not general until two weeks before Christmas.

Other reports:
Birmingham: Five stores report gains averaging 25 per cent. Laboring class buying particularly significant.

New Orleans: One store reported sellout of medium priced toys. Increase attributed to re-employment and better prices for cotton.

Pittsburgh: 3.1 per cent increase for week ending Dec. 1 as compared with previous week. Sales generally higher.

Kansas City: Officials estimate increase of 15 to 22 per cent over 1933. Buyers want either highest of lowest quality with middle grade trade less vigorous.

Buying Increasing
Salt Lake City: 6 to 7 per cent sales increase over 1933; buying gathering momentum.

St. Louis: Estimate increase of 10 to 15 per cent over 1933; total December volume estimated ahead of 1933 and 1932.

Cleveland: Up about 15 per cent; $80,000 checks now going out; $12,000,000 Union Trust company dividend payoff; $3,500,000 refund from East Ohio Gas company and $1,600,000 from Christmas savings clubs.

Philadelphia: Ahead by "appreciable amount" one executive reported pickup "more rapid than in long time."

Denver: Pickup several weeks ahead of last year. Estimate 15-20 per cent ahead of 1934.

Detroit: 20 per cent above 1933. Portland, Ore.: 24-30 per cent higher.

Boston: Pickup beginning. Des Moines: Gift buying will exceed 1933 by 15 per cent.

Los Angeles: 10 per cent above 1933; more persons buying; furniture, wearing apparel and domestic articles show largest increases.

Milwaukee: Up 20 per cent. Biggest toy business in three years. New trend toward "sentimental" merchandise.

Butte: Increases range from 15 to 31 per cent over 1933, said to represent 65 to 90 per cent of 1929 volume.

St. Paul and Minneapolis: Sale of luxury items "surprisingly big"; far ahead of 1933 in quantity and quality.

BEVERLY HILLS, Dec. 7. (To the Editor of The Register:.) The investigation season opened earlier than usual this season. The ammunition investigating committee had an awful exciting session yesterday. That committee has got a job for life. The ammunition concerns sell it faster than the committee can investigate it. No nation will buy anything to eat or anything to wear from you, but if you got a gun they will buy it, and more than likely shoot it back at you. Looks to me like if every nation made their own ammunition it would relieve their unemployment. Well, there ain't no use arguing about it, nothing is going to be stopped anywhere that there is any money in.

JUDGE ORDERS LAMSON STAND SECOND TRIAL

McKenzie immediately gave oral notice that he will file a motion to disqualify Judge Syer from presiding at the second trial. He said he would base the action on grounds of legal prejudice, citing proceedings of the first trial and the magistrate's decisions today.

The attorney said he would file the motion within a few days. Hearing on the disqualification proceeding to be conducted in conjunction with Lamson's arraignment two weeks hence.

Court attaches were uncertain whether Judge Syer would rule on the motion to disqualify him or whether a disinterested judge would be called in.

Japan, he said, aimed at abolishing proportions of strength for equality.

Unlike Davis, he insisted that the Washington naval limitation treaty did not give Japan an adequate sense of security. He emphasized that the development of the radius of action of aircraft and warships since the signature of the Washington treaty increased Japan's security. It was in speaking of this that he mentioned Manchukuo.

"Hungarian authorities," he continued, "after having transferred some of the terrorists from Janakaputa to Nagy Kanjiza and its neighborhood, continued to grant them their protection, and the criminals to whom the perpetration of the crime was entrusted were chosen by casting lots on September 26." (The assassination occurred on October 9.)

Support Charges
Benes and Titulescu both declared that they fully supported Jevtic.

Replying to Jevtic, Tibor Eckhardt, Hungarian delegate, called the Yugoslavian appeal "political maneuvering directed against Hungary."

He appealed to the council for sympathy for the Hungarians expelled from Yugoslavia.

"The expulsions have reached incredible proportions," Eckhardt said. "Hungarians are being forced to leave Yugoslavia every day. About 2500 have arrived in Hungary. They were forced to leave on several hours notice without exceptions in favor of the sick or aged."

He criticized the allegations in the Yugoslav memorandum to the league. He denied that Jankaputa is a terrorist camp and also denied that Hungarian authorities and officers had aided Croatian exiles.

THOUSANDS DRIVEN FROM THEIR HOMES
(Copyright 1934 by United Press)

SZEGED, HUNGARIAN - JUGOSLAVIAN FRONTIER, Dec. 7.—(UP)—Hundreds of destitute Hungarian refugees, driven from their homes in Yugoslavia, crowded this border town today while angry citizens demonstrated in the streets, crying "down with Serbia."

The mass exodus, enforced by the Yugoslavian government in reprisal for the assassination of King Alexander by terrorists alleged to have come from Hungary, presented scenes of human misery unparalleled in post-war times.

Men, women and children streamed across the border here—mothers with babies in their arms, feeble old men and women, crippled children, women about to become mothers, children separated from their parents.

They had been uprooted without warning from their homes, loaded into crowded trains and sent across the frontier. Shivering and emaciated in the winter weather, many were without baggage. Some had bundles or a few precious possessions knotted in a cloth.

Many Destitute
Many were actually destitute. The bulk of their possessions, household goods, cattle and farming equipment, were left behind.

They were huddled in improvised quarters in the railroad station, schools, police headquarters and other buildings. Authorities were at their wits' end to feed and shelter them.

A tour of villages along the frontier disclosed refugees coming in at various points. A train carrying 180 arrived last night and another with 130 today.

Hungarian residents along the border were in a state of fright lest Serbian comitadjis (roving, irregular bands little better than bandits) cross the border to rob and plunder.

Apparently one or two comitadjis crossed several yards into Hungarian territory last night as a gesture of defiance. Hungarian troops, anxious to avoid a grave incident, avoided them and they withdrew.

The incident increased the bitterness of the populace against Yugoslavia.

Hold Demonstration
Hungarian students demonstrated before the Serbian orthodox church today, shouting insults at the Serbians.

The refugees told pitiful stories of their plight.

One mother with three weeping children clinging to her claimed she had not been able to bring her fourth child because he was visiting a neighbor when the swift expulsion occurred.

A six-year-old boy with a broken leg was brought here on a stretcher. Two women refugees were taken to the hospital for the birth of children. Several refugees were blind, others infirm.

Many of them, although Hungarians, have lived in what is now Yugoslavia all their lives. Most of them neglected to become Yugoslavian citizens, although some claimed to be citizens. Most of the children were natives of Yugoslavia, having been born there since the war.

Refugees from the Baranya district in Yugoslavia said 8000 Hungarians had been living there, some for 30 or 40 years, but had forgotten to declare in favor of Yugoslavia after the post-war division of territory. Most of the 8000 had been expelled, the refugees said.

The majority of the refugees were peasant farmers.

They said they had been working peacefully when Serbian authorities took them to the police station and then the railroad station without giving them a chance to dispose of their property or to pack personal necessities.

WOMEN FLIERS IN SEVENTH DAY ALOFT

DALLAS, Texas, Dec. 7.—(UP)

Jean Larene and Henrietta Sumner, women endurance fliers, continued in flight today after almost being forced down for lack of fuel.

Kenneth Hunter, manager of the flight, arrived here from Oklahoma City in a refueling plane just in time to transfer 70 gallons of gasoline to the endurance ship and keep it in the air.

The women flew to Dallas during the night when it appeared bad weather was brewing over the Oklahoma City airport.

The women were flying in their seventh day aloft. They must stay up more than 10 days to set a record.

PARAGUAYAN TROOPS DRIVING FORWARD

ASUNION, Paraguay, Dec. 7.—(UP)—Paraguayan soldiers were only a few miles from recognized Bolivian territory today after a formidable drive against the Bolivian army in the Gran Chaco, according to dispatches from the front.

In their path lay the small forts of Cabayurepeti, Paranamayo, Quijaro, La Victoria, El Tuscal, Porevenir and Monte Rico.

It was believed these inevitably would fall and that the Paraguayans then would take Fort D'Orbigny, on the Pilcomayo in Bolivian territory, and advance on toward the main army base at Villa Montes, key to the rich oil fields.

The Bolivians were expected here to make their next real stand at Villa Montes.

Court Notes
Clarence Brady, charged with disturbing the peace, was arraigned in the Santa Ana justice court today, pleaded not guilty, and had the hearing set for December 12 at 9 a. m. He was released without bail.

Jack Rankin, charged with non-support of a minor child, had his answer to arraignment set for March 9, 1935, at 9 a. m., with the provision that he take care of his family in the meantime, when he was arraigned in the Santa Ana justice court today.

Walter C. Woods, 1403 Spurgeon street, was booked at the county jail today by Constable Jesse Elliott on a warrant from the Corona justice court, charging that he had failed to pay $65 of a $76 fine for reckless driving.

J. C. Riggs, 34, Los Angeles, was brought to the county jail today by Deputy Sheriff James Musick on a non-support charge after being arrested in Los Angeles on a warrant from the Santa Ana justice court.

16 Trojans End Gridiron Career In Irish Tussle

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 7.—Finis will be written to the football careers of 16 University of Southern California football players when the Trojans close their 1934 season Saturday playing against Notre Dame in the Coliseum.

Eight of the boys who will wind up their college gridiron days for Troy are regulars. Capt. Julius Bescoe and Bob Fuhrer at end, Herb Tatsch and Houston Harper at tackle, Tony Beard at guard, "Cotton" Warburton at quarterback and Cal Clemens at halfback. Ward Browning, hard luck end who received a broken right ankle in Troy's final practice scrimmage Tuesday afternoon, will be able to participate only as a listener-in over the radio, but the rest of the graduating class boys will be on hand either in the starting lineup or on the bench ready to make their final appearance.

Gar Matthews, quarterback; Al Reboin and Jimmy Webb, halfbacks; Al Coughlin and Jed Ostling, ends; George Lady, tackle, and Francis McGinley, guard, are the reserves among the senior class and it is likely that most of them will see service sometime during the game.

A WORD OF COMFORT

Many a pioneer has discovered a new land because his faith carried him bravely on. As you struggle to regain the foothold you seem to have lost, you will attain more than you can have hoped for.

Because you do your best with what seems an impossible task, you will find yourself stronger and endowed with a deeper understanding than you had supposed was possible.

CARDOVA—At the family residence on Emmett street, December 7, 1934, Nicolio Cardova, aged 5 years, son of Mr. and Mrs. Porfirio Cardova. Services under direction of the inquirer. Funeral home will be held from the residence Monday at 9 a. m. Interment in Santa Ana cemetery.

DEATH DRIVER GIVEN TERM IN STATE SCHOOL

Horace Plumb, 18-year-old Tus-tin high school senior, was denied probation and sentenced to the Preston School of Industry at Ione for two years, at a hearing today before Superior Judge James L. Allen in connection with a hit-run charge, involving the death of Mrs. Mary L. Moore, 67, of Santa Ana.

Plumb was the driver of the death car that struck down and killed Mrs. Moore on North Main street, near Tenth, last Halloween, even the carload of youths taking flight after the accident. Plumb had come to Orange county from Grand Junction, Colorado, last September.

Refusing him probation today, Judge Allen disagreed with the probation department's recommendation of a jail sentence. The boy should not be in jail, he said.

The Ione institution, he told the boy, is a school, not a penal institution, and there is no disgrace in being sent there. The youth will be able to continue his studies or learn a profession. If he applies himself to his studies he will be able to shorten his sentence there, said the court.

Parents of the youths in the Plumb case were criticized by the court for the fact that the party of boys had obtained liquor and a car and were permitted to "run around" under such circumstances. "Their parents," said the court, "are as much or more to blame than are the boys."

ARRESTS FOR DRUNKENNESS SHOW INCREASE

Drunkennes-arrests during the month of November showed an increase over both the same month a year ago and during October of this year, it was shown in a police report today.

Officers made 55 arrests for intoxication during November, as compared to 44 during the same month a year ago and 53 for October, 1934. Drunken driving arrests were the same during November of both years, with four motorists being jailed. There were four arrests for violation of the liquor laws during November, 1933, and none in 1934.

The report showed that one of the greatest recoveries of stolen property in many months was made during November. There were $3489.69 of stolen property reported and officers recovered $3149.50, leaving a loss of only $340.19. There were 11 cars stolen and 10 recovered, and 13 bicycles reported missing and 9 recovered.

Other arrests in November were as follows: assault with a deadly weapon, 1; burglary, 3; fictitious checks, 1; disturbing the peace, 2; grand theft, 1; petty theft, 1; manslaughter, 1; vagrancy, 2; California Vehicle Act, 24; insane, 1; city traffic ordinances, 36; for other cities, 4; and bench warrants, 1.

HAMLET

William Thornton, below, will be seen in the title role in "Hamlet" which is to be presented by his company in Fullerton next Monday night

YOUNG ACTOR TELLS VALUE OF SHAKESPEARE

William Thornton and his company who have just presented a week of Shakespearean repertory at the Bolasco theater in Los Angeles and are embarking on their third trans-continental tour of the United States, will be seen in "Hamlet" at the Fullerton union high school auditorium Monday evening, December 10.

"It seems to me that the plays of Shakespeare are worth as much in cultural value, to say nothing of entertainment as a symphony orchestra or an opera company," Thornton said. "Everything in mankind is in Shakespeare."

"Too often he has been relegated to the classroom and the library. Shakespeare's place is the living stage, where all grades and ages of men can watch themselves in the guises of his characters. On the printed page and in cold type, greatness is there, but the quality of life, like the third dimension, is lacking. It takes the living theater to supply it."

CHURCH GROUP MEETS

BREA, Dec. 7.—An all day meeting of the Missionary society of the Baptist church was held Thursday with a pot luck luncheon being served at noon. Mrs. Joe Wade, president, presided. Mrs. E. D. Craig reported that some six or seven boxes of supplies had been sent to foreign missionary posts and one box to Arizona. Russell Crouse, soloist at the Santa Ana First Baptist church, formerly a missionary in China, spoke on the customs and conditions in China. He also favored with a tenor solo, being accompanied by Mrs. Crouse.

PROTECTION OF BEES SOUGHT BY BEEKEEPERS

Election of officers featured a brief business session yesterday afternoon as the 45th annual California Beekeepers' association convention here ended a three-day session. Resolutions were adopted seeking protection of bees from poisoning by fruit sprays.

T. L. Nicolaysen, Salida, was named president to succeed C. E. Lush of Orange. A. K. Whidden of Arlington was named vice president. Cary W. Hartman, Oakland, was reelected secretary-treasurer. Henry Perkins, Los Angeles, spoke at the afternoon session, discussing the subject "Heavy Brood Rearing in Summer and Its Relation to Enemies of Bees."

Another talk was given by Mrs. Herbert M. Yates of San Bernardino on the topic, "Loss of Bees in July Hot Spell, Cause and Prevention." "The Use of Aply Warning Signs" was the subject considered by H. M. Krebs of Sacramento.

About 300 beekeepers from all over the state of California were in Santa Ana during the three-day convention. Many noted speakers appeared on the programs, including state, county and national agricultural officials who discussed matters of importance to honey men.

The convention was adjourned yesterday afternoon following a brief business session in Convention hall, at the First Christian church. Several resolutions were adopted on matters advocated by speakers in talks during the convention.

A resolution aimed to prevent poisoning of bees by insecticides used on spraying and dusting, and another to place honey under the state marketing act, were adopted. The resolution on poisoning pledged the association to work with the state department of agriculture in asking that fruit growers spray trees when not in bloom.

It asked that the use of airplanes for dusting be discontinued, pointing out that insecticides thus used often spread several miles. The resolution favoring placing honey under the state marketing act provided for classifying flavors and requires standardized labeling so consumers may know what grade and flavor of honey they are buying.

HIGHWAY BODY TO CONVENE SATURDAY

The annual pilgrimage to Imperial valley made by the Imperial Highway association is to take place tomorrow when the meeting of the association is held at El Centro. Arrangements are being made to entertain the guests over night, with further plans for entertainment throughout Sunday, according to Joe Bush, of El Centro, and George Kellogg, secretary, of Yorba Linda, in charge of plans.

HILLIS GETS NEW POST WITH FRUIT EXCHANGE

C. C. Hillis, former manager of the Orange County Fruit Exchange, has been appointed assistant secretary of the California Fruit Growers Exchange, with headquarters in Los Angeles, it was announced today following a meeting of the board of directors.

Hillis succeeds B. B. Gregory, who passed away November 21. Hillis has served the citrus in-dust as manager of two district exchanges over a period of years. At the same time it was announced that Fred F. Heydenfeldt, of Porterville, was appointed manager of the growers service department, effective January 1, to succeed the late Dalton A. Fick, widely known in this county.

"Our new department head has had a broad experience as grower, association and district exchange director and manager of several Sunkist associations, and is considered well qualified to carry on this important grower relations and membership activity," General Manager Paul S. Armstrong said.

A. E. Nelson, a member of the exchange field department staff for 14 years, and especially identified with research work, was promoted to assistant manager of the department, which is headed by Henry J. Ramsey.

NEW ENTRANCE TO BE ADDED AT CHANDLER'S

Plans for making extensive improvements and additions at the Chandler Furniture store, Third and Main streets, were announced today by James N. Harding, manager.

Work will be launched Monday to tear out the blank wall on the Third street side of the large furniture store, and to install show windows and a Third street entrance.

A new department will be added to the store when alterations are completed, which is expected to be done by December 15.

The new department will be an electrical appliance department, and will be in charge of H. A. Henkel, who for 12 years was in charge of the commercial department at Indianapolis for the Frigidaire company. He was with the same company for two years at Sacramento before taking the important position in Indianapolis.

A complete line of the new Frigidaire electric refrigerators will be on display at the Chandler Furniture company store. Other modern electrical appliances which will be handled include washing machines, ironers, radios, electric and gas ranges and heaters.

JAYCEE TEAM WINS DEBATE WITH CITRUS

Santa Ana junior college opened the 1934-35 forensic season with a victory over Citrus Jaycee last night when Glen Bishop and Claude Owens were awarded an affirmative decision on the question "Resolved, that the Federal government should immediately adopt a plan of compulsory unemployment insurance."

A large crowd attended the debate which was held in the new Music building on the junior college campus. Prof. E. R. Nichols, head of the department of speech at Redlands university acted as critic judge and rendered the decision.

Bishop and Owens were members of last year's debate squad which was runner-up for the conference championship. The Dons won the title in 1932.

The next debate for the local college will be held December 19 when a Santa Ana negative team journeys to Pomona junior college, according to John H. McCoy, Don debate coach.

TAX MEETINGS TO BE HELD MONDAY

Two meetings of special interest to taxpayers have been scheduled Monday in Santa Ana, according to an announcement made by A. G. Diehl, chairman of the Taxpayers' league.

The first session will be held at noon in La Casa Trabuco cafe and a mass meeting will be held at 7:30 p. m. in the Temple theater for citizens of Orange county. The speakers and program will be announced later by Diehl.

Local Briefs

Police Chief Floyd Howard is expected to return today from a two-day trip to Mexico.

DRUNK DRIVERS FARE BADLY IN COURT TODAY

Drunk drivers, who comprised all but one of the criminal cases heard on the regular Friday calendar today by Superior Judge James L. Allen, fared poorly in their quest for probation. Four of the five requests for probation were denied and the fifth, while granted, had a jail sentence of 60 days attached.

A sixth defendant charged with drunk driving, John E. Turner, had first pleaded not guilty, then changed his plea to guilty. Today he changed it again, to not guilty. Trial was set for December 15, without a jury. Turner was arrested October 24 at Pomona and Birch streets, Brea.

Oscar Huntzinger, arrested October 21 near Talbert, was the lone driver to be granted probation. The probationary period was fixed at three years, and Huntzinger was ordered to serve two months in the county jail.

Mark Regan, arrested October 28 near Anaheim; Raymond J. Tierney, Los Angeles, arrested November 14 at First and Buero road, west of Santa Ana; Joe Calderon, arrested near Stanton November 16; and Melvin Wright, 25, Villa Park, arrested at El Modena November 1, all were refused probation.

Regan and Tierney each were sentenced to six months in the county jail. Wright and Calderon are to receive sentences December 12. Calderon, it was shown, had served in the Arizona penitentiary for automobile theft, but claimed to have "taken the rap," for another person.

COOPERATIVES BEGIN DAIRY UNIT OPERATION

Regular daily delivery of milk to eight CCC camps located in Orange and Riverside counties by the dairy project of the United Cooperative Exchange of Orange County, with headquarters at Westminster, was well under way today after completion of a program to start the deliveries.

The program is worked out as part of the dairy project of the cooperatives. It originally was intended to have a dairy with milk cows and to milk the cows, process the milk, bottle and deliver it. The government, however, sent wild cows and steers instead of milk cows as planned. The steers came back to Orange county after being returned to the government, but they were in the form of canned beef.

The plan now in operation includes purchase of the milk from independent milk producers over the county. It is then processed, bottled and delivered by the cooperatives to their members and to the CCC camps. The producers are paid with requisitions on the federal grants made to cooperatives, and the cooperatives in turn are able to sustain the projects with funds credited to their grants through the sale of milk.

Between 800 and 900 quarts of milk a day now are being delivered to the CCC camps by the cooperative dairy, located at New Westminster.

E. T. Mitchell, general manager of the United Cooperative Exchange, said that about 3300 loaves of bread a day are being delivered to the CCC camps from the exchange bakery at Los Alamitos.

FIVE INJURED IN THREE ACCIDENTS

Five persons were hurt, none seriously, as the result of three wrecks in Orange county yesterday.

Frank Dudgeon, 1017 West Fourth street, was knocked down by a hit-and-run motorist at Fourth and Ross streets, and was removed to his home with slight injuries. Stories varied concerning the car which struck the man, one witness declaring it was a tan colored new sedan and another believing it was an old black coupe.

W. L. Moore, 65, 1205 North Broadway, and Clarice Demars, 2609 Greenleaf street, were both hurt slightly when their cars collided in front of the Moore home. In a spectacular accident on the Coast highway, east of the Bolsa Chico club, near Seal Beach, a truck driven by B. B. Merritt, 36, Los Angeles, crashed into the rear of a car driven by C. C. Blake, 36, Los Angeles, turned over, skidded 175 feet and finally broke off a telephone pole. Merritt was given first aid treatment by Seal Beach police, and Gladys Adams, 27, Los Angeles, riding with Blake, was slightly hurt. Blake did not stop after his car was struck, but drove on to Seal Beach and reported the crash to police. Both drivers had been drinking, according to police records, but no arrests were made.

Madame Marie Curie was the first person to receive the Nobel prize twice; she received it in 1903, with her husband, for physics, and again in 1911 for chemistry.

New Card Series For Laguna Beach

LAGUNA BEACH, Dec. 7.—Arrangements for staging a series of city bridge championship matches for the year now drawing to a close were completed at a meeting held Wednesday by the Small Slam Bridge club at the Community clubhouse on Ocean avenue, according to Ralph A. Frost Jr., secretary of the club.

The event is open to any two residents of the colony who care to play. Players, however, must sign up as a team with any member of the committee on arrangements, made up of Ralph Frost Jr., Mrs. Maurice McMillan and Mrs. S. C. Pierce. All entries must be on file by December 8.

Differing from the methods of preceding years, there will be no elimination round. The play will cover 20 duplicate boards played back as in former years. Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Frost, present holders of the champion title of the colony, will be defending.

SURGEONS TELL ADVANTAGES OF GOOD HOSPITAL

Members of the surgical staff of St. Joseph's hospital used the theme of "Relation and Duties of Surgeon to the Patient and Hospital and Medical Practitioner" for their regular meeting held Wednesday evening at the hospital.

Following the dinner, Dr. G. W. Olsen of Fullerton discussed the advantages of the patient and surgeon in a Class A hospital, pointing out the increased efficiency in the care and treatment of patients in a hospital which has an organized staff, an X-ray department, diatetic department, and completely equipped pathological and clinical laboratory under the supervision of a good pathologist.

Dr. D. A. Harwood of Santa Ana talked on several other recent scientific advances and their practical use, based on his studies at the recent meeting of the American College of Surgeons in Boston. He discussed the management of pain in incurable diseases as it is being done by modern methods.

Dr. J. M. Burlew, senior member in Orange county of the American College of Surgeons, read and explained the pledge taken by all surgeons who are members of that organization. "The thought of prime importance," stated Dr. Burlew, "in every surgeon's mind is the welfare of his patient in every respect, and secondarily, the patient is obligated to recompense the surgeon reasonably for service he has received from the surgeon."

Dr. C. R. Jackson of Costa Mesa told of some experiences and impressions made on his recent trip to Europe.

Monsignor Thomas O'Dwyer, president of the Catholic Social Welfare bureau, honor guest of the evening, spoke of hospital management and commended the St. Joseph's hospital staff on its organization, and also the work of the Sisters of St. Joseph. He also outlined plans for further increasing the service to be rendered to the community by the hospital with the establishment of an outpatient clinic.

CLAIM SCHLESINGER IN BUENOS AIRES

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 7.—(UP)—Lee Schlesinger, young socialite business man who disappeared two years ago, is living in Buenos Aires, Argentina, friends said today.

Schlesinger's automobile was found in Columbia river near Vancouver, Wash., on December 28, 1932. For a time it was believed he had been drowned, and the river was dragged.

Later suspicion arose concerning the incident, and insurance companies apparently ascertained to their own satisfaction that he was alive.

Policies on his life aggregated $50,000, according to some sources.

Mrs. Montgomery Shower Honoree

WINTERSBURG, Dec. 7.—A surprise shower for Mrs. John Montgomery, who is leaving soon to join Mr. Montgomery who has been transferred to the Kettelman Hills field by the Standard Oil company, was given Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Dewey Woods, with members of the Royal Neighbors lodge as guests. The honoree was presented with a traveling bag and a number of handkerchiefs. Bridge was played during the evening and refreshments of cake and coffee were served.

Present were Mrs. G. Brown, Mrs. Opal Treese, Mrs. Stella Jensen, Mrs. Opal Musgrave, Mrs. Alice Lambers, Mrs. Verbal Williams, Mrs. May Richie, Mrs. Jennie Hubbard, Mrs. Catherine Parker, Mrs. Velda Farwell, Mrs. Luella Knauss, the honoree and the hostess, Mrs. Woods.

Local Briefs

The final performance of "An Old Spanish Custom," annual opera, produced by the Julia Lathrop Junior high school music students, will be given tonight in the Willard Junior high school auditorium. Shows were given in the afternoon yesterday and today before large audiences.

Beauty Culture Class Planned At Night School

Opening of a new class in beauty culture for those who wish to get a start in this profession was announced today by officials of the Emergency Educational Program. The class will be under the direction of Mrs. Laura McFaire and will be conducted in her parlors at 114 East First street from 3 to 5 o'clock Monday afternoon and from 8:30 to 10:30 o'clock Wednesday mornings. It was stated that completion of the course will not make professional operators, but will shorten the apprentice period considerably and help persons interested in personal beauty culture.

Man Involved In Fight Arrested

Charged with assault with a deadly weapon, Doccelo Tellez, 75, Stanton, was jailed yesterday on a felony warrant from the Anaheim justice court by Deputy Sheriffs R. E. Steinberger, James Ragan and James Musick. Tellez is alleged to have stabbed a man in the hand with a small knife during a scuffle in a Stanton grocery store Wednesday night.

SOCIAL HELD BY ENDEAVOR GROUP

MIDWAY CITY, Dec. 7.—Members of the Christian Endeavor group of the Midway City Community church sponsored a box social Wednesday evening, with a program following the supper. Proceeds will be used for the purchase of new hymn books. C. R. Hart, Sunday school superintendent, was auctioneer.

A play "A Rural Luncheon," was presented by six women of the Alamos Friends church. A talk was given by the pastor of the church, the Rev. Clifford Jones and a number of violin and trumpet duets were presented by Mrs. Ed. L. Hensley and Miss Illamae Hensley.

Police News

C. F. Angell, 610 South Birch street, had a fender guide stolen from his car last night at his home, he reported to police.

Fred Walker, 1401 West Second street, had a black suit case containing clothing valued at $10 stolen yesterday from the Alpha Beta store, 418 West Fourth street, according to police files.

TUSTIN PYTHIANS HOLD CELEBRATION

TUSTIN, Dec. 7.—More than 150 Knights of Pythias were present at the regular meeting of the organization held Tuesday night in the lodge hall. A chicken dinner was served at 6:30 o'clock under the supervision of Ray Pierson, A. J. Beckman, F. C. Matthews and Grover Riehl in celebration of a recent re-financing accomplishment. The building has been relieved of an indebtedness of more than $15,000.

As is the custom once each year, the chairs were filled by past chancellors. Walter Peruzzi acted as chancellor command; John Kiser, vice chancellor; Ed Kiser, president; Ben Wollenberg, master-at-arms; Roy Smith, inner guard; Ed Helt, outer guard; and Everett Smith, master-of-works.

The by-laws were changed in regard to the number of men serving on the building committee so that this board of directors will be composed of seven men instead of three as heretofore. Those selected to serve on the building committee were Walter Peruzzi, L. E. Allen, Jerome C. Kidd, William Robbins, James U. William Huntley and Earl Horton.

The knight rank was conferred on Jack Riley, Claude Williams, Idus Harper, Cassius Cluser, Albert Kinyon, Edward Thierly, Lee Hasenager, Harold Anderson and Earl Horton.

PASTOR TO SPEAK IN TUSTIN
TUSTIN, Dec. 7.—The Rev. M. L. Pearson, of Orange, will speak at the 11 a. m. and 7 p. m. services at the Tustin Presbyterian church Sunday, according to announcement made today by Raymond West. Sunday school, with classes for all ages, will be held at 9:45 a. m., with Gavin Baxter, Sunday school superintendent in charge.

B. F. Beswick will conduct the regular prayer meeting to be held at 7 p. m., December 12, in the church parlor. Everyone is invited to attend the meetings.

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

— News Behind the News —

WASHINGTON
By Paul Mallon

SWEETENING

The AAA crowd has found it can catch more congressmen with Chester Davis molasses than with Tugwell vinegar.

You remember those three amendments to the AAA act which were thrown into the ashcan at the last session of congress by southern Democratic senators, who said the amendments would make Prof. Tugwell a rex or something like that.

Well, Messrs. Davis and Wallace have privately retrieved them, dusted them off, sugared them very, very cautiously and are going to try them again this session. The plan is clever. Instead of proposing all three at once, Messrs. Davis and Wallace are going to put forward one at a time. The two non-controversial amendments will go first. Last to be offered will be the one extending the AAA power over small crops not in the basic commodity group. Each probably will be attached to some bill, so as not to stand alone.

PRESSURE—

What heartened Cooks Davis and Wallace was an inside tip they received a few days ago that Virginia Senator Byrd has changed his mind. Byrd led the successful resistance to the amendments last time.

Since then, Virginia farmers voted in a referendum to continue the corn-hog program. Also, cooperation from Virginia tobacco growers has been extraordinary. Furthermore, there are some Virginia potato growers who have been trying to get their commodity into the basic list.

All Byrd will say is that he has nothing to say, which tends to confirm AAA hopes.

The AAA-ers already have gone to work on the farm crowd to get approval for revival of the amendments. Soon they intend to call in the members of congress and attempt to get an agreement before the amendments are formally offered.

Great stress will be laid by the AAA-ers on the fact that these are not Tugwell amendments. Prof. Tugwell probably will be hidden when the congressmen call.

That fact may give you a hint as to how things are going within the AAA now.

HITLER'S CANDY

Mister Hitler knows how to use sugar also. The conciliatory gestures he has been making lately to the Catholics in Germany do not mean that he has changed his mind about religion.

The truth behind it all is that the Saar election is going to be held about a month hence, and 72 per cent of the Saar voters are Catholics. Hitler has fixed everything with France so that the Saar undoubtedly will go back to Germany, but he cannot afford to have the Catholics pile up a strong opposition vote.

Hitler really used his head for something beside the manufacture of bombastic words when he worked out the recent Saar agreement with France. The best minds in our state department believe he avoided a certain European war next spring.

It was not hard to do because France was thoroughly frightened.

MONEY

What happened on the Saar business was this: Hitler let it be known indirectly in France some weeks ago that he was going to get the Saar back either by votes or a putch. France thereupon moved up troop reinforcements to the Rhine as a nervous counter-threat. Hitler accepted the dare and passed out word that preparations were ready to move up the shock troops of the Austrian Nazi legion still on German soil.

This left France two choices: (a) an endless fight to hold the Saar, which would gain her nothing; (b) a peaceable effort to get fifty million dollars promised by the treaty for letting the Saar go. That was no choice for Frenchmen. They took the fifty million dollars.

COTTON PILL

President Roosevelt himself can re-roll a pill with the best of them when he wants to.

That is the explanation behind his announcement Wednesday proposing to exempt the one and two-bale cotton farmers from the Bankhead curtailment program. A referendum on that program was scheduled for December 15. Senator Bankhead discovered a few days ago that the small farmers were not going to support the program. He dashed around AAA headquarters here for awhile, but the AAA boys found they could do nothing until congress changed the law.

A long distance telephone call was put in to Warm Springs and the situation placed before Mr. Roosevelt. He agreed to issue his announcement promising to seek exemptions for small farmers at the coming congressional session. It saved the referendum from disclosing a strong underlying opposition.

About one-fourth of the two million cotton growers thus will be exempted, but they raise only one-tenth of the crop.

NOTES

The best financial quarters have received a tip from London that the Japanese have been trying to arrange a loan there for money to pay Russia for the Chinese Eastern railroad. The British do not care much for the idea. Their policy is to float foreign loans only when the Empire gets some trade or other advantage out of it.

The London naval conversations lately have been directed mainly toward finding a pillow for the conference to fall on. Our people have come around to the view that the only thing to do is to let the naval issue ride for ten or twelve months and see what happens.

A Republican sadly surveyed the crate-like scaffolding around the Washington monument the other day and mourned: "I knew the Democrats were carrying off just about everything they saw loose around here, but I did think they would leave the monument."

NEW YORK

By James McMullin

VICTORIES

Labor has scored two notable triumphs in the past week. Neither has attracted much public attention but open-shop industrialists are jittery. The unwelcome writing on the wall looks much plainer to them now.

First was the decision of New York Supreme Court Justice William Harman Black confirming the legality of the closed shop under Section 7A in the case of the Doll and Toy Makers Union versus Ralph A. Freundlich. The importance of this test was forecast here when it began.

It was a cockeyed sort of case. The Freundlich firm had voluntarily entered into an agreement with the union before NRA became controversial. Later it moved its factory from New York to Massachusetts—taking a few skilled workers along—with the avowed purpose of cutting labor costs. When the union protested this as a violation of contract the employer ingeniously retorted that the agreement was no longer binding because it was based on the closed shop and the closed shop was debarred—no less by the protector of harried capital—Section 7A.

What lifted the content out of the class of routine labor squabbles was its value as a precedent. Both contestants got the strongest sort of backing because of this. The National Association of Manufacturers quietly moved up in support of Freundlich. You can see what it would have meant to them to have the company's argument upheld by the courts. The Federation of Labor was very much among those present in the union's corner.

Alas for the open-shoppers, Justice Black minced no words in busting up their lovely logic. Opponents of organized labor will now have to set 'em up in another alley. This one is blocked for keeps.

The other labor victory was the long-delayed settlement of the New Jersey dyers' strike. The strikers several times turned down concessions on hours and wages—holding out for union recognition. They finally got it because the pressure of competition from unaffected areas was too strong for the employers. Driving a wedge into such a tight groove was no mean accomplishment—and augurs well for labor progress on other fronts.

HORSE
But conservatives draw some consolation from the Justice Department's curious approach to the Houde case. The government charges the corporate defendant with refusing to deal with "exclusive bargaining representatives of all or any employee groups." On that wording the company union is entitled to representation along with the organized labor outfit that corralled the most votes—precisely the point the National Labor Board (which instigated the prosecution) is trying to disprove.

Labor circles aren't sure whether this was just dumbness or whether the Attorney General—who has never been keen about pressing the issue—is playing horse with them. Mr. Cummings is distinctly on the right-hand side of the fence personally. Whichever it is, he doesn't intend to let him get away with it. Tune in for vehement protests about this apparent technicality.

STRIDE

The only surprise to New York in Secretary Morgenthau's current financing arrangement is the amount of new money involved. $800,000,000 was more than the boys had expected—but it merely whetted their appetite for his offerings. Insiders get word that the reason for this large sum is to avoid the necessity of raising cash during the period when Congress is likely to be feeling its oats. No more will be needed till March—and by that time it's figured that either Congress will have gone home or be trained to heel at its master's command.

The most significant item in the financing was the $450,000,000 in 15-18 year 3 1/8 per cent bonds. That's the longest maturity since the Mellon 3's were put over against banking protests.

The mere mention of an eighteen-year issue at such a low rate would have sent Wall Street into hysterical spasms even two months ago. Now it's taken in stride and almost without comment. You can credit that to the new cooperation.

YOUTH

Many of New York's women leaders warmly approve of Mrs. Roosevelt's current radio talks, and especially of her references to the problems of youth. They feel she's saying many things which have needed to be said for a long time.

Outstanding New Yorkers—both men and women—are privately giving a lot of thought to the generation which has been leaving high school and college the past few years. There's a deep concern—among conservatives and left wingers alike—about the hopelessness of their outlook under existing economic conditions.

"When the time comes for them to take over their elders they won't be ready for their responsibilities. Meanwhile they are plastic material for any demagogue who offers them hope of betterment—however illusory." This last angle troubles many conservatives in connection with Father Coughlin's appeal to youth.

The first half of a two year survey being made for New York university by three college presidents pointedly raises the question—what good is a higher education when college graduates are a drug on the market? With all the discussion of what to do about youth nobody in a position of responsibility claims to know the answer. The only point of general agreement is that somehow one must be found.

SMART
Backstage Wall Street Republicans aren't nearly as keen as you'd think for Charles D. Hillis' efforts to make the G. O. P. safe for conservatism. One man who has been a lavish contributor—and who is anything but radical—remarks that Hillis is beating a hasty drum for a parade that passed by an hour ago. It's true that the Old Guard still controls the party machinery—but enough big timers feel this way to make its retention of power anything but cut and dried.

Watch Teddy Roosevelt in this connection. If he swings over to the Borah-McNary-Mellen-Macy move to liberalize the party it will be because influences potent behind the scenes have told him that's the smart thing to do. His defection from the Old Guard would raise Cain with it in New York state.

THIRD
New York political observers have a sharp eye on the budding split in the Socialist party. They figure Norman Thomas' friendly dicker with the Communists if carried far enough will drive the Waldman-Solomon right wingers into the arms of the Progressive-Farmer-Labor coalition. Once they dropped the Socialist label they would be a big help to that group. It's also understood that a number of younger leaders in the Federation of Labor crave direct political action and regard the La-Follette banner as a logical one to enroll under. If they ever get the upper hand over Bill Green and Co. there may be a real live Third Party before you know it.

DEFENSE

The elaborate James M. Beck-Newton Baker charges that TVA is illegal for this reason and that reminds irreverent New Yorkers of the man who was accused of returning a borrowed lawn-mower with the blades broken. His defense was (a) he hadn't borrowed the mower, (b) he had returned it in perfect condition and (c) the blades were broken when he borrowed it.

Present Cantata In Laguna Beach Church On Dec. 23

LAGUNA BEACH, Dec. 7.—Elaborate plans are being made by the Community Presbyterian church for a Christmas cantata to be presented at the church Sunday afternoon, December 23, at 3:30 o'clock, according to an announcement by the Rev. Raymond I. Brahm, pastor of the church. It will be "The Christmas Messiah," a shortened version of Handel's Messiah, and will be under direction of Mrs. Laurette Chilton, with Miss Sadie Shields as organist.

Participating in the program will be three guest artists, Archie Moore, bass soloist of the First Congregational church of Pomona; Webster William Brahm, tenor soloist of the Grace Presbyterian church of Los Angeles; and Mrs. Melville Walker, of Berkeley, well known contralto of the bay section.

REQUIRE TAX CLEARANCE FOR NEW LICENSES

SACRAMENTO, Dec. 7.—The opening of the period for the state department of motor vehicles to receive applications for 1935 license plates by mail has caused Russell Bevans, registrar of vehicles, to call public attention to the new law which requires a tax clearance on all cars before a license can be issued.

While the department began receiving applications by mail only at the Sacramento headquarters on December 1, and will not begin counter deliveries until January 2, some confusion is being experienced and more is anticipated as a result of lack of familiarity by the automobile owning public with the new law, which was passed by the 1933 legislature and is effective for the first time with the 1935 registration period.

Under this law the owner must have the county, city and county and city assessor, as the case may be, stamp the back of the registration card to show that the personal property tax has been paid on the vehicle.

In the case of persons who do not own real property the tax clearance is obtained from the assessors either at the time of paying the personal property tax on the car or at a later date in the year upon exhibiting the proper tax receipts to the assessors.

In the case of persons who do own real property the tax clearance is obtained from the assessors at the time of paying the personal property tax or declaring it a lien on the real property, or at a later date in the year upon exhibiting the proper evidence to the assessors.

The department of motor vehicles or any agency issuing license plates cannot accept a tax receipt or any other evidence of tax payment in lieu of the assessors' clearance stamp on the back of the registration card.

In the case of a car being purchased since March 5, 1934, the tax clearance is printed in red letters across the back of the registration card.

Bevans advises the public that the simplest and most convenient method of obtaining the 1935 license plates is to mail the registration card with proper tax clearance stamp on the reverse side to the Sacramento headquarters along with a money order, bank draft or certified check for $3 to cover the registration fee. Do not send cash or currency. The plates will be mailed to the applicant immediately after the holidays.

Issue Statement On Cafe At H. B.

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Dec. 7.—M. Mandia, mentioned in Chief of Police George Gelzer's report to the city council this week as manager of the Bobb Inn at 406 Ocean avenue, stated yesterday to the Register that he was not manager of the place during the time the offenses, complained of by the police occurred, and which had caused the council to order the license forfeited. Chief Gelzer also said that Mandia had cooperated with the police in an effort to correct asserted evils at the Bobb Inn.

A. H. McGonagill of Santa Ana, distributor of Balboa beer, stated that he was the holder of the attachment on the Bobb Inn, which attachment was mentioned in Chief Gelzer's report. Chief Gelzer stated in the report that he had been informed the Balboa Beer company held the attachment. The hearing before the council on the matter of forfeiting the license of the Bobb Inn will take place at the council chambers in city hall December 13.

Morgan Trio To Appear At Laguna

LAGUNA BEACH, Dec. 7.—On account of the illness of Miss Sara Compinsky, another ensemble of noted musicians, known as Le Trio Morgan, made up of three sisters, Virginia, harpist; Marguerite, pianist; and Frances, violinist, will appear here in place of the Compinsky trio, on the Laguna Artists series, sponsored by the Laguna Beach Music Lovers' club, as arranged by L. E. Behymer.

The concert has been set for December 15.

The Morgan sisters appear in period costumes and carry with them an international reputation, having appeared in the leading capitals of Europe as well as at several fashionable resorts on the French and Italian Riviera. It was stated. They opened the series of winter musicales at the White House last season, appearing before President and Mrs. Roosevelt. So called "command" performances given by them on the continent included appearances before Premier Benito Mussolini of Italy at his private home; at Kensington palace before Princess Beatrice; before the royal families of Sweden and Denmark at their respective palaces; at the Elisee palace in Paris before President Doumergue and other heads of governments. Tickets are now on sale at the Chamber of Commerce office.

Dinner, Program Held In Tustin

TUSTIN, Dec. 7.—Approximately 55 members of the Friendship Bible class of the Tustin Presbyterian church shared the regular monthly dinner program held Tuesday evening in the church social hall.

Mr. and Mrs. Grant Henderson, Mr. and Mrs. D. D. Adams, Mr. and Mrs. Worth Alexander and Miss Minnie Windler were in charge of the potluck dinner which was served at 6:30 o'clock at long tables made attractive with sprays of cottonseed.

Cloyd C. Hall, president, presided at the business session. Miss Mildred Marchant entertained with two whistling numbers and Orlo W. Householder gave several humorous readings and vocal selections.

Hold Funeral of Mrs. Lydia Noble

OCEANVIEW, Dec. 7.—The funeral of Mrs. Lydia Ellen Noble, whose death occurred Monday morning at the local home of her sister, Mrs. Laura Kelly, was conducted Wednesday afternoon at the Dixon chapel in Huntington Beach by the Rev. J. A. Wootton, pastor of the Midway City Nazarene church, with interment following in Westminster Memorial park.

Mrs. J. A. Wootton, Mrs. Frank Husk and Miss Thelma Condit sang "The Old Rugged Cross" and "The City Four Square." Pallbearers were Ward Mosley, Fred Hill, Marion Teague, A. W. Jensen, Bernie Tays and Golden Brown.

FORD DEVELOPS "CAR DOCTOR"

The newest service development of the Ford Motor company the "mechanical doctor" or laboratory test set, which makes an unerring rapid diagnosis of the ills of a motor car, is shown here. The first set in Orange county has been installed at the Dunton Ford garage, 801 North Main street, for the convenience of county motorists. Tests which may be made with the new equipment include those of oil pressure, compression pressure, ignition efficiency, fuel pump flow, generator and battery condition, carburetion, lighting current, radio voltage, radio tube activity, and scores of others connected with the complex modern automobile.

CROWD EXPECTED FOR MESA SOCIAL

COSTA MESA, Dec. 7.—In order to raise funds to buy poppy and lupin seed for wayside plantings on Newport and Harbor boulevards, the Costa Mesa Chamber of commerce will give an old-fashioned box social tonight at 7:45 o'clock in the Woman's clubhouse. Old-fashioned music will be played by the SARA orchestra.

It is hoped that old-fashioned clothes will be worn by those attending. An old time auctioneer will auction off the lunch boxes and both cash and merchandise prizes will be awarded to those bringing the best decorated boxes. A large attendance is expected.

Mrs. James Lewis Shower Honoree

WINTERSBURG, Dec. 7.—A shower for Mrs. James Lewis was a surprise feature of Tuesday evening's Wesleyan Service club meeting. The honoree returned to Wintersburg recently following a year spent in St. Louis, Mo. Many pretty gifts were received by the honoree.

Miss Ruth Stinson, president, presided at the business meeting. The group decided to give a play instead of the public dinner which had been planned. A committee to choose the play was appointed, the members including Miss Geraldine Gardner, Miss Helen Schoenberg and Miss Gladys Whitacre.

The club meeting, which was held at the home of Mrs. Eva Beun, opened with a pot luck supper and those attending included Miss Ruth Stinson, Mrs. James Lewis, Miss Helen Schoenberg, Miss Susan Russell, Miss Donna Stinson, Miss Gladys Whitacre, Miss Alberta Pratt, Mrs. Marjorie Gardner, Miss Zelle Nichols and the club advisor, Miss Ethel Dwyer.

5 WAYS ANYONE CAN PROVE.. TRITON Outlasts EASTERN OR WESTERN OILS!

Union's New PROPANE SOLVENT REFINING PROCESS brings you...

A superior type Paraffin-base motor oil from California crude

An oil free from Carbogens (the unstable elements that rapidly form sludge and carbon)

TRITON quality proved by 250,000 miles of stock car road tests.

Like many great discoveries, the PROPANE SOLVENT PROCESS is extremely simple.

In every crude from which motor oil is made—eastern or western—varying quantities of 100% pure parathenes (the best lubricating fractions) are found.

Operating at temperatures down to 40 degrees below zero the PROPANE SOLVENT PROCESS rejects all the unwanted portions of the crude—paraffin wax, asphalt, Carbogens and naphthenes (low grade oils), leaving only the 100% pure parathenes, or paraffin-base lubricants.

Of all the many high grade lubricating oils we have tested, none other than TRITON has proved to be 100% pure parathenes. Even high-priced oils previously known for their quality contain from 10 to 20% of the undesirable materials—not found in TRITON.

What Road Tests Proved

1. TRITON outlasts eastern or western oils—gives more miles per quart.
2. TRITON reduces motor wear. (Micrometer measurements of car driven 60,000 miles in 60 days showed motor wear reduced 43%.)
3. TRITON greatly reduces sludge—the black slimy material that comes out of the crankcase of your car when it is drained.
4. TRITON produces less carbon than other oils—eastern or western.
5. TRITON retains its firm body. Watch your oil gauge and you will see that TRITON pressure remains constant throughout the life of the oil—also during long high-speed runs.

Only 30c a Quart

Try TRITON on your next refill. It costs only 30c a quart in refinery-sealed, tamper-proof cans.

Thousands of Independent Dealers have TRITON, and, of course, you can get it at any Union Service Station. Watch for the big TRITON banner.

EVENING HIGH SCHOOL HEAD TALKS TONIGHT

W. W. Wieman project supervisor of the SERA and principal of the Lathrop Evening High School, will give a summary of the work being done in the evening classes of the Adult Education department, Santa Ana city schools, at 6 o'clock tonight on KREG.

The various classes are open to the public, free of charge, and offer a variety of practical courses by some of the best instructors obtainable anywhere.

Adult education broadcasts now made from KREG are as follows: Mondays, Interior Decorating by Edith Hynes; Wednesdays, Lip Reading by Miss Ruth Barlett; Thursdays, Music by Leland Auer; Fridays, to be announced.

These broadcasts, all made at 6 p. m., are in addition to the series of University College broadcasts made under the auspices of the Adult Education department, University of Southern California, daily excepting Saturdays and Sundays at 2:15 p. m. from KREG.

KREG NOTES

Miss Beatrice Woodward, field representative of the California Tuberculosis and Health association, will speak on "Child Health" tomorrow at 12:30 p. m., KREG.

RADIO FEATURES

Time References Are Pacific Standard Time

Two of film's interesting personalities—Carole Lombard and George Raft—will appear as guest stars of the hour-long dramatic revue, "Hollywood Hotel," broadcast over KKHJ at 6:30 tonight. Miss Lombard and Raft, assisted by Lynn Overman, will re-enact dramatic excerpts from their new picture, "Rhumba."

The Fiesta Festival, now a feature of the NBC Friday schedule, will be heard between 7:30 and 8 tonight over KFL. Charles Shepherd continues as director of the program, which features the colorful music of early California.

Victor Herbert's charming "Naughty Marietta" will be the source of several of the numbers to be offered by the Caswell singers and Emil Polak's orchestra over an NBC network, including KFL at 9 tonight. The popular Hobbes program featuring Wilbur Hall will deal with the hobby of collecting Christmas seals in the broadcast at 9:15 tonight. This program will be heard over KKHJ.

SATURDAY
Abram Chasins, talented young American composer-pianist, will devote his full program of "Piano Pointers" over the Columbia network, including KKHJ, at 9:45 a. m., to an outstanding group of his own compositions.

The question of an Anglo-American alliance to maintain world peace will be debated by students of Harvard and Oxford universities during an international broadcast over NBC networks Saturday, including KFL at 12 noon. Oxford university debaters, arguing for such an alliance, will be W. Gordon Murry, president, and K. R. F. Steel-Maitland, ex-president, of the Oxford Union society. They will be heard from the British Broadcasting Corporation studios in London. The negative will be upheld by Frederick D. Bolman Jr., president of the Harvard Debating Council, and Gilman Sullivan, speaking from Boston.

The third concert of the Library of Congress series, made available through provisions of the Elizabeth Sprague Coolidge Foundation, will feature the Philadelphia Chamber String Symphony conducted by Fabian Seitzky and broadcast over the nationwide KKHJ-Columbia network at 1:30 p. m. Saturday.

A fishworm and a goldfish will be pitted against each other on Saturday afternoon, to determine which makes the most noise while pursuing the round of its usual functions. Scientists at the E. E. Free Laboratories, on Fifth Avenue, New York, will settle the question of relative noisiness by using a sound microscope on both fish and worm, and the proceedings will be broadcast and described to the nation over the KKHJ-Columbia network from 4:30 to 4:45 p. m.

Another "Opera Cavalcade" of the favorite works of Gounod, Verdi, Meyerbeer, Goldmark, Debussy, Donizetti and Puccini will be presented by Roxy during his broadcast over the Columbia network including KKHJ from 5 to 5:45 p. m., Saturday.

FREAKISHNESS OF FISH TOPIC OF BROADCAST

A descriptive "Trip Through Neptune's Novelty Shop" is the topic of tomorrow's "Romance Under the Water" broadcast scheduled at 11 a. m. from KREG as prepared by Frank T. Bell, United States commissioner of fisheries.

The "Original Inflationist," "hitch-hiker," and fish whose actions resemble those of human beings—or is it that human beings resemble the fish?—will be described by this authority, demonstrating that queerness, freakishness and eccentricity are not the sole attribute of humans—or fish. "Romance Under the Water" is scheduled each Saturday at the same hour on KREG.

POPULARITY OF ARRAS BUGGE IS INCREASING

Arras Christie Bugge, concert baritone, assisted by Miss Leonora Tompkins, pianist, will offer another in the series of delightful recitals, scheduled each Friday at 8 p. m. on KREG, tonight at that time with an English, German and Norwegian program.

Bugge's program will include a song cycle by Schumann, "Im wunderschönen Monat Mai," "Aus meinen Tarnen gesprochen," "Wenn ich in deine Augen seh," and "Ich grolle nicht." "Eventide," "Gron-dahl," "Mattiata," "Leonavallo," "Sylvia," "Oley Speaks," "Jeg elsker dig (I Love You)," Greig, and "Passing By," Purcell. Miss Tompkins will offer "Novelette," by Schumann.

With each program, the popularity of these artists is rapidly increasing program officials stated.

FRONT PAGE DRAMA FEATURED TONIGHT

The dramatic story of underworld life where the course of true love may not run smooth but is always interesting will be told in tonight's presentation of "Front Page Dramas" under the title of "Penthouse Rendezvous" to be broadcast from KREG at 8:45.

The cast will be featured by Raymond Bramley, radio and stage star.

BOY SCOUT DRIVE TO BE CONTINUED

ANAHEIM, Dec. 7.—Decision to continue the campaign for funds with which to carry on Boy Scout work during the next year was reached last night when workers in the Anaheim district met with their chairman Judge Frank Tausch. While it was decided to continue the campaign a closing date was not set.

An accurate check on how much money has been raised to date could not be made. Judge Tausch said that many of the workers were unable to attend the meeting last night. Those who were present turned in a total of $208.25. Anaheim's quota for this year was set at $1000.

RECEIVES AWARD

ANAHEIM, Dec. 7.—Anaheim Chamber of Commerce has a trophy today as a result of the Armistice Day parade in Huntington Beach. The trophy, a silver urn, was awarded for the float entered in the parade on that day. The trophy was delivered to the city Tuesday by the American Legion and was turned over to the chamber of commerce yesterday afternoon. Lettering on the cup reads "Armistice Day, 1934, Huntington Beach."

Late News From Fullerton And Vicinity

MRS. GOLBURN PRESIDENT OF RELIEF CORPS

FULLERTON, Dec. 7.—Mrs. Effie Golburn was elected president of the Woman's Relief Corps of Fullerton at the annual meeting that followed a luncheon at Odd Fellows' hall Thursday. Mrs. Golburn will have serving with her as junior vice president Florence Erthal; junior vice president, Mabel Stephenson; treasurer, Etta Countess. This will make Mrs. Countess' tenth year as treasurer of the organization.

Other officers elected are Mrs. Mary Beach, chaplain; Mrs. Edith Freeman, conductress; Mrs. Irma Jones, guard. Mrs. Nannie Cooper was elected delegate to the convention in May, along with Mrs. Erthal, Mrs. Dora Riley, Mrs. Gladys Taylor and Mrs. Clara Swift. Alternates elected for the convention were Clara Gouldin, Susie Hargo, Jennie Swope, Iva Carpenter and Edith Freeman.

Installation of new officers, along with Mrs. Golburn's appointive officers, will be early in January. Many visitors were present, including Mrs. Irma Jones, district department, junior vice president; Mrs. Gladys McDonald of Orange, department secretary; Mrs. Hazel Stroup of a Habra, member of the department executive board. Presidents from other corps attending were Ida Hughes, Anaheim; Mary Trent, La Habra; Geraldine Beal, junior vice president, representing the president of Santa Ana; Mrs. Wiederman, president-elect of Orange, and Clara Winn, president-elect of the Federation No. 1, and Ida Miller of Santa Ana, president of No. 1, also attended. Mrs. Estelle C. Gray of Santa Ana, department president, paid her official visit yesterday. Mrs. Vera Smith presided.

Mrs. Jennie Clinton will entertain the Get-Together club of the corps at a Christmas party December 12 at her home. Each member is to bring a small gift for exchange, and a covered dish for luncheon.

L. A. MAN TO SPEAK AT P. T. - A. MEETING

ANAHEIM, Dec. 7.—Dr. Martin McNichols, superintendent of parochial schools in the Los Angeles-San Diego diocese will be the speaker before members of the St. Boniface school P. T. - A. at an early date in January, according to an announcement today by officers of the group. The date for the meeting at which McNichols will speak has not yet been announced.

Plans for the meeting will be discussed this afternoon at a meeting of the group to be held in the parish hall. The general meeting will be preceded by a session of the executive board which will be held at 2 p. m. in the school office.

Entertainment for this afternoon's meeting will be presented by students of the Marywood Central Catholic high school. Students of the sixth grade will serve refreshment under supervision of Mrs. J. W. Truxaw. The same group will serve breakfast tomorrow morning to children of the school at the monthly communion.

CHURCH BAZAAR TO BE HELD SATURDAY

ANAHEIM, Dec. 7.—Members of the Ladies' Aid society of the Evangelical church are holding their annual bazaar today and tomorrow at 240 West Center street. The women have been working for several months preparing articles for sale during the event. According to Mrs. E. Elmer, president of the society, the bazaar will open at 9 a. m. each day. Booths have been arranged offering a wide variety of fancy work and other items suitable for Christmas presents as well as cooked food and other delicacies.

FULLERTON, Dec. 7.—Mojave chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, will hold a regular meeting Monday at 2 p. m. at the home of Mrs. Archibald Edwards on South Raymond avenue. Assisting hostesses are to be Mrs. J. Arthur Miller, Mrs. George Reed, Miss Lois Cooper and Mrs. W. E. Gunnett. Mrs. A. M. Thompson will preside.

A Christmas party will be featured and small gifts will be distributed about a Christmas tree.

BURGLARIES IN ANAHEIM FAIL TO YIELD LOOT

ANAHEIM, Dec. 7.—Three burglaries here last night, in one of which a safe was ruined, netted the thief exactly nothing. Two of the places burglarized were oil company offices and the third was the Industrial Fuel company where the thief obtained tools with which to enter the other places. The oil company offices entered were those of the Sunset Oil company and the Standard Oil company.

Investigation of the burglaries by Sgt. James Pifer of the Anaheim police and R. R. Lutes of the county bureau of identification established the fact that the thief wore cotton gloves in all three of the robberies and that the jobs were the work of an itinerant. The officers trailed the man from the Standard Oil company office to a freight car where he slept after the attempts to loot the three places.

According to Sergeant Pifer the man first entered the Industrial Fuel company, Santa Ana, and Acheson street, where he secured tools. From that place he stole a special tire iron, a large hammer and a drift pin. The tire iron was used in forcing entry into the other two places and the hammer and drift pin used in an attempt to open the safe of the Sunset Oil company at Santa Ana and Vine streets.

Entry into the office of the Sunset Oil company was gained through a front door which was pried open. The combination of a large safe was knocked off and an attempt made to remove the tumbler pin. The safe was ruined, according to police.

At the Standard Oil company entry was gained through a window which was pried open. Nothing was taken from this office as there is no safe and the thief was unable to locate the money repository.

Pifer said that in both the Sunset Oil and Standard Oil jobs the time from stolen from the Industrial Fuel company fitted into marks made on the door and window through which the thief entered.

The fact that cotton gloves were worn, leaving no finger prints indicated, according to Pifer that the job was the work of a professional burglar. Failure to open the safe at Sunset Oil, he said, was proof that the thief was an amateur at safe breaking.

CROSSING GUARDS WORK ON HOLIDAYS

ANAHEIM, Dec. 7.—During the period Anaheim schools are closed for the Christmas holiday crossing guards, working under SERA, probably will be used to safeguard children at street intersections, according to an announcement today at police headquarters. This will serve a double purpose, protect children downtown during the rush holiday season and provide work for the men assigned to the SERA project.

It was pointed out by Chief of Police Bouldin that while the men probably will be on duty during the holiday season they will not be used to direct traffic or adult pedestrians. Their sole duty will be to protect children crossing the streets. The men probably will be on duty during the same hours they work when school is in session.

PLAN YULE PARTY

FULLERTON, Dec. 7.—Children of the American Revolution will have a Christmas party Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock when they meet at the home of Mrs. A. W. Kammerer, 800 North Raymond avenue, according to an announcement by Mrs. W. E. Gunnett today. In addition to their program and gift exchange, they will collect gifts to distribute to the children in a Los Angeles hospital.

DINNER, COURT OF HONOR HELD BY BOY SCOUTS

FULLERTON, Dec. 7.—Boys of Scout troop No. 33, sponsored by Fullerton Kiwanis club, planned, prepared and served a barbecue dinner to their parents at the Izak Walton cabin Thursday night.

More than 50 attended the meeting. Walter Humphreys acted as chairman of the evening. He and Frank Wilhite were representatives of the Kiwanis Scout committee attending the dinner.

Following the dinner, Harrison White, county executive, presided at a court of honor, where Robert Sanks, Fred Bacon and Jack Phillips were awarded merit badges; Sherwood Tonner, a second class badge; Bradley Humphreys a first class, and William Nelman a tenderfoot badge.

Jack Phillips prepared, baked and served the biscuits for the dinner. Fred Bacon and Eugene Minton were in charge of the barbecue and Jim Snyder, Sherwood Trotter and Bud Dawson were in charge of tables. All Scouts of the troop who were not on those committees were in charge of the cleanup work.

Karl Parks is Scoutmaster and Don Keller is assistant.

NEIGHBORS HOLD PARTY FOR COUPLE

FULLERTON, Dec. 7.—Mr. and Mrs. John Bertaina (Juanita Willhite) were honored when a group of neighbors surprised them at their new home, 321 East Commonwealth avenue, with an old-fashioned house warming Thursday night.

The hostesses who planned the party were Mrs. W. A. Stewart and Mrs. Floyd Lucas. They presented their new neighbors with a group of lively pictures. The evening was spent at playing hearts, ice cream, cake and coffee were served.

Attending were parents of Mrs. Bertaina, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Willhite; Mr. and Mrs. Otto Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Lucas, Mr. and Mrs. B. Wood, of Placentia; Mr. and Mrs. Stewart, Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Clayton, Mrs. R. E. Peschel, Mrs. Wolf, Mr. and Mrs. Hein and the honorees.

HOUSING PLAN OFFICIAL TO ADDRESS GROUP

Representatives of various Orange county financial institutions, industrial concerns and related businesses interested in the progress of the Better Housing Administration, will attend a meeting in the Los Angeles Biltmore hotel December 13 at noon to hear an address by Ward M. Canaday, director of public relations of the FHA at Washington, D. C., according to an announcement made today.

Officials of the Orange County Better Housing program and the Orange County Builders Exchange, the two groups which are concentrating efforts on the program here, will head the delegation, which is expected to include more than 50 men and women from various parts of Orange county.

Chairmen of the Better Housing Programs in each center of population in the county are to head the delegation. Those who desire to attend should contact these chairmen, according to Frederic W. Sanford, director of the county program with headquarters in the Builders Exchange building, Santa Ana.

At least one representative from each concern represented at the Los Angeles meeting should be delegated to speak for his business, Sanford said, because matters for consideration will require pledges of cooperation and approval.

Chairmen of the various communities in the county are: W. C. Jerome, Santa Ana; V. D. Johnson, Orange; Joe Prevost, Tustin; Joseph R. Jahraus, Laguna Beach; H. A. Sugart, Olive; S. M. Clark, San Clemente; Charles Lake, Garden Grove; George Clough, Westminster; M. E. Beebe, Anaheim; H. M. Hopson, Huntington Beach; Le Roy Anderson, Costa Mesa; Louis Briggs, Newport Beach; Dr. J. H. Lang, Fullerton; Richard Nelson, Buena Park; R. H. Drake, La Habra; C. R. Young, Placentia; E. R. Walker, Yorba Linda, and L. A. Hogue, Brea.

The New Deal and the Joneses

Pa Wonders What Dollar's Value Really Is

This is the sixteenth article in the series which follows the Jones family through a careful study of the New Deal. In their discussions at the supper table and in the living room and with neighbors and other friends, they rapidly are reaching a clear conception of what this recovery program is all about.

BY WILLIS THORNTON
Chapter 16

"S a funny thing," began Pa Jones. "I been telling you, John, ever since you were a little tyke, that I wanted you to learn the value of a dollar."

"Yes, I know, Dad," conceded John Jr. with a smile. He guessed what was coming.

"Funny part is," went on Pa Jones. "Now after 40 years in business, tradin' with those same dollars, I'll be darned if I know myself."

"Tell the truth, I never gave it a thought until two years ago. Since then I've thought a lot. It took me a long time to realize that a dollar isn't something fixed in Scripture, but just something that congress creates."

"The constitution gives congress power to coin money, regulate the value thereof, and of foreign coin...." Why, goosh, that means congress could declare wooden nickels legal and they would be.

"They'd be legal, all right, but nobody's take 'em," smiled John Jr. "Money regulation seems to be a combination between what the government wants to do and what people will do."

"People Have Say So" "I remember in that course we had in high school, when French money was inflated before the revolution there, they had the death penalty for anyone who took the paper money for less than the value printed on it. But that didn't stop it sliding to practically zero."

"Congress has the power to regulate money, all right, but the money must be real or people won't take it. The power's limited by facts even if not by law."

"Now, for instance," Pa resumed thoughtfully. "A dollar was always a dollar up to the beginning of 1933, because you could always get a certain amount of gold from the government for one...."

"Yes, you could," interrupted John Jr. "But what we forget was that maybe that certain amount of gold wasn't as fixed as we thought. Gold is just a commodity, rising and falling in value with demand and scarcity, just like lead or oil."

"Also, there's a lot of international speculation in it, and the price is affected by how much different countries have of it."

"Gold Value Fluctuates" "I see that gold varies in value, all right," said Pa Jones, a little testily. "But it's the most stable thing there is, and we hung to it for years and kept the dollar the best money in the world."

"All right. But in December, 1932, you know gold was very high and prices were very low. This was partly due, I suppose, to large supplies of goods with nobody buying, but also due partly to the high price of gold by itself."

"Anyway, the point is, the relationship between a gold dollar and a pound of sugar was all out of kilter, and a customer who had been owing you for five years for 100 pounds of sugar would be paying you for maybe 200 pounds of sugar if he paid the debt in gold dollars in 1932."

"You'll admit you'd have been even if you got only half as much gold as the bill called for."

"Dishonest, Says Dad" "Huh! Don't think I didn't cut a lot of those bills in half to settle 'em, too!" murmured Pa Jones.

"Sure, Dad, but most people didn't," continued John Jr. "So that's when we went off the gold standard and said we wouldn't give gold dollars for paper dollars any more."

"Yes, and downright dishonest, too, I call it," snapped Pa Jones. "The government bond I bought back during the war days says 'payable in gold,' and now they not only refuse to make good on that promise, but they put you in jail if you happen to have gotten the gold!"

"Dishonest? Well, I suppose maybe, in a way," admitted John Jr. "But was it any more dishonest than the government issuing paper money?"

"I've always wanted you to learn the value of a dollar, John. Now after trading for 40 years with that same dollar, I don't know the value of it myself."

ing pretty near 30 billions of bonds and currency, all payable in gold, when we had only about three or four billions to pay it off with?"

Another Side to Matter

"Suppose everybody wanted his gold? Only one in 10 could have gotten it. Would the other nine have thought that was honest?"

"Not to say anything about the 60 billions of bonds and mortgages of private business payable in gold, when the whole world contained only about 11 billions in gold. Was that honest?"

"At least the gold now belongs to all of us, and can be spread out evenly over the field."

"Oh, I suppose it's logical, enough, but I don't like it yet," grumbled Pa Jones. "It's a darned poor example for the government to set, reneging on even a bad bargain."

"And this dollar devaluation! That's just confiscation! By cutting down by 40 per cent the amount of gold in a dollar, it's just like slicing 40 per cent off every debt. Don't you forget, young fellow, that at the time they devalued the dollar, we had $2200 owing us in back bills at the store."

"Devaluation Help, Too" "Yes, and we owed a $1500 mortgage on the house and $500 to wholesale houses," laughed John Jr. "I guess we're pretty even on that. But in general the idea seems all right to me."

"Most debts were contracted when things were high in dollars. So this devaluation, by cutting the amount of gold to a dollar, tends to make things such as sugar and wheat worth more in dollars (even if they stay the same in gold) and make it possible to pay off some of the debts."

"And you'll agree, Dad, that until the country gets out of debt some, it'll never be the same."

The declared object of the Roosevelt administration in asking (and getting) from congress power to devalue the gold dollar was to make it such a dollar that "those who owe money can repay with the same kind of dollar which they borrowed."

President Roosevelt further said

"Those who owe money can repay with the same kind of dollar which they borrowed."

"Those who owe money can repay with the same kind of dollar which they borrowed."

"Those who owe money can repay with the same kind of dollar which they borrowed."

S. A. OP RIVERSIDE OFFENSE OR DEFENSE?

By HARRY GRAYSON

NEW YORK, Dec. 7.—Coach Heffelfinger's blast that present-day football players, linemen in particular, were softies.

Yale's All-American guard of 1888, '90, and '91 pointed to the myriad of substitutions, and stressed the fact that in his time it was not at all unusual for athletes to block and tackle through-out entire seasons without being taken out.

At certain intervals each year we hear a similar echo from the past, when some old-timer recalls the deeds of a Heffelfinger, O'Dea, Poe, or Hinkley, remarkable men, no doubt, but nevertheless seen in the flatter light of distance.

It is only natural for these veterans to believe that the warriors they knew best were superior to those of today.

But anybody who knows a football from a squish realizes that the modern game calls for a higher type of athlete. There is no question but that Heffelfinger, O'Dea, Poe, Hinkley, and other grand figures of the glamorous past would stand out were they performing today, but there also is no disputing the fact that the game has progressed beyond their wildest imagination.

As Bernie Bierman, the splendid Minnesota mentor, explains, "More interest, more men out, natural advancement, and closer application."

GLORIFIED TUG-OF-WAR
The old-timers played nothing more than a glorified game of tug-of-war," says Harry Mehre, guide of the Georgia Bulldogs.

"I played 10 years ago and the players of today are vastly improved over those of my college days. So easily can figure how far they are ahead of those of the '90's. Football requires not only the strength and brawn that it did in the old days, but much more speed and brains. That isn't even debatable.

"Moosebats assert that the boys of today are pampered and given too much care whether they are injured or not.

"These well-meaning old gentlemen simply do not understand that the more open game of today calls for more players. The boys are as rugged as ever. They also are faster, more alert, and they 'catch on' quicker. This follows natural-

SMITH "LITTLE GIANT" OF PROS

Idaho Quarter, 145-Pounder, Revels in Tough Going

ONCE HE HIT BRONKO NAGURSKI

BY HENRY McLEMORE
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK, Dec. 7.—Arouse the same curiosity which would send citizens in droves to see Jack who killed the giant, David who kayaked Goliath and St. George who dusted off the dragons, were these valorous fellows returned to earth. I journeyed to the Polo grounds today to see Willis Smith, of Boise, Idaho.

Feed Willis Smith a dozen alligator pears, drape him in a double-breasted overcoat, give him the Dionne quintuplets to hold, and he might weigh all of 145 pounds. Pop him up on his toes like Pavlov and he might stand all of 5 feet 6 inches. Willis Smith of Boise wears a 6 1-2 shoe, 15 collar, and his hands are small and chubby.

Works Against Tough Guys
In a Christmas card salesman, a bank teller or poultry farmer, even these anatomical weights and measures would be without interest and quite beside the point. But in the case of Willis Smith they are quite important, for Willis Smith is a professional football player, working against the biggest, toughest, meanest football players in the world.

As a quarterback of the New York Giants, Smith is a pygmy among the Martin Johnsons. To his right, to his left, behind him and in front of him, are burly bruisers who tower 6 feet or more and pack anywhere from 200 to 275 pounds of brawn.

When Willis, coming almost directly from the University of Idaho campus, reported to the Giants this fall, Coach Steve Owen took one look at him and said: "Son, you're too damn little. You wouldn't last a first down in this business. You may have been a son of a gun out there with Idaho, but these pros guys would bust you in two."

"You're right," said Willis, "maybe they will. But what about letting me hang around till they do? My family'll send for my body, so it won't cost you anything."

So Owen let him hang around, higher for eligibility requirements are higher now than ever before. "Squads today are apt to have a greater number of dependable players, and a coach would be foolish if he did not use everybody who is dependable.

"Some are stronger in one style of play than others. For example, coaches will use a brilliant offensive lineman on the offense, but a substitution frequently will place a more formidable defensive man on the line of fire.

"Georgia had a fine running guard during the past season, but he was inferior to another player on the defense. I certainly would not have been a good coach had I not picked the spots for both. Similar situations exist both in the line and backfield at practically every school.

MUST LOOK AHEAD
The more polished players graduate. A coach has to handle his men with an eye toward the next season. We all realize the fickle attitude of the football follower. A splendid squad this year doesn't mean an assured clientele the next.

"If a coach tried to make 11 or a few more than that stick it out game after game, he would have an inexperienced set of scrubs on his hands the following season. "Modern players can take it and dish it out with the hardest of the old school if the occasion arises.

"How about the 11 Yales who started and finished and turned in one of the most notable victories in years against Princeton? Yale used only 15 men against Harvard, and Georgia only 15 against Yale. Oregon State's starting 11 stuck in there and held an outstanding Southern California team to a scoreless tie a year ago.

"Many modern players go through a season without a letup. Les Lindberg played every minute of Illinois' arduous schedule of the past campaign. Tommy Tomb, the Columbia quarterback, was out of the lineup only once, and then for only a few minutes.

"How about the Brown Iron Men, who had a remarkable season without a single substitution several years ago?

"There was a band of modern durables that should help silence old-time tug-of-war stars who profess to believe that the boys of today are softies."

SAINTS LAUNCH BASKET SEASON AT REDLANDS

Redlands of the Citrus Belt league will furnish opposition for Santa Ana high school's varsity and sophomore quintets in a doubleheader basketball program on the Redlands court beginning at 7 o'clock tonight. This will be the Saints' first start of the season.

In an effort to discover a first string for his Coast Preparatory league inaugural with San Diego here next Friday, Coach Reese Greene will escort a squad of 18 players to the inland school. Performance against Redlands will determine in a big way the Saints who will get in the San Diego game, Greene said.

Those chosen to make the trip this evening follow:
Forwards — Kenneth Nissley, Erwin Youel, Roger McCune, Bill Milligan, Bob Clark, Bill Somdacher, Vernon Carney and Bill Flood. Centers — Bob Browning and C. C. Casey. Guards — Leonard and Sam Lockhart, Bob Reid, Mac Beall, Warren Mann, Paul Bingle, Jack McClure and "Red" Hurd.

Nissley and Youel, forwards; Browning, center; Leonard Lockhart and Reid, guards, probably will start for the varsity.

Ruth Repartee Annoys Jap Spokesman

TOKIO, Dec. 7.—(UP)—Is Babe Ruth, national baseball hero here as well as in America, one up on Elji Amau, suave outspoken spokesman for the Japanese foreign office?

It would appear so from one newspaper's account of their meeting.

Said Amau to Ruth, "Your eyes, your nose, your Oriental style and gallant manner do not stamp you as an American."

Replied Ruth: "When I met you for the first time, I thought you were a pure American. You yourself differ from your own race."

Amau, curly-haired and red-faced, drew himself up to declare proudly: "I am pure Japanese."

As he withdrew from the scene of the repartee, Amau had the uncomfortable feeling that perhaps by "pure American" Ruth had meant American Indian.

BAER BEATS MILLER EYES OPERA SINGER

DES MOINES, Ia., Dec. 7.—(UP)—If Mary McCormick could have sat on all four sides of the ring Johnny Miller, an obscure Albion, Ia., heavyweight fighter, might have whipped Max Baer last night.

Baer kept one eye on Miller through a four-round exhibition while he kept the other on the ringside seat of Miss McCormick, an opera singer who only two days ago announced she may marry a Royal Northwest Mounted policeman.

Baer earned the decision, "Buddy" Baer, Maxie's 19-year-old, 240-pound brother, won his eighth successive knockout victory by beating "Red" Fields, Des Moines, on the same card.

CLARK DE GROOT TO COACH KNOX ELEVEN?

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 7.—(UP)—Clark ("Thin Man") De Groot is ready to reach for that immortal fame which will go to the man who leads Knox college to its first football victory in 25 years.

De Groot, head coach at Los Angeles Roosevelt high school, received an offer to coach the Illinois school and will accept, friends said today.

De Groot was a substitute line-man eight years ago at the University of Southern California. Rumors said he would take Paul Kunkinoff, and George Nahas, all-city stars, back to Illinois if he accepts the Knox berth.

Hamilton, N. Y., Dec. 7.—(UP)—The first string eleven for the All-East's game with the All-West at San Francisco New Year's Day may be taking shape.

Franklin Meier, center, Nebraska; James O'Connell, Oklahoma; Ray Fugate, end, S. M. U.; Clyde Carter, tackle, S. M. U.; Roy Berry, halfback, Tulsa; George Maddox, tackle, Kansas State; Bob Hilliard, halfback, Texas university.

Dan X. Riley, Nebraska coach who extended invitations to players in this region, said he would be unable to help in coaching the West team this year because of conflict between the game date and the American football coaches' association meeting.

TOURING BEARS MAY GET JOINT IN 'PARADISE'
HONOLULU, T. H., Dec. 7.—(UP)—Coach "Stub" Allison and his University of California team may find Hawaii anything but a paradise when they come here to play the Honolulu teams during the holidays.

For the plans of the Honolulu Town Team and the University of Hawaii eleven hold the possibility of a headache for the Bears as a Christmas present and a New Year's hangover to follow.

The Californians will meet two strong teams as their holiday opponents, teams that number among their players men who have been stars in colleges here and on the mainland.

The "Townies," for instance, will field a team of Christmas Day boasting such headlines as "Buster" McGuire of Wisconsin and Pierre Bowman of Oregon State, backed by a welter of top-line local material.

Though University of Hawaii, California's Jan. 1 opponent, has played 29 intercollegiate games in 13 years, winning 15 and losing 14, this will be the Deans' first game with California.

Coach Otto Klum, who never coached a college team until he came here 13 years ago, uses the Notre Dame system and capitalizes on every bit of speed and dash the team can muster—which is plenty.

Heading the university's attack are Capt. Jack Johnson and Dick Furtado, both halfbacks. Dick, a Swede, does most of the kicking, besides packing the ball and blocking. Furtado, Chicago-Hawalian sophomore, is one of the most phenomenal passers ever developed in the islands and is the key of the Dean's aerial offensive.

The champions are depending on Miles Norton, their brilliant right tackle, to open holes in Riverside's line. The husky sophomore letterman was the most prominent lineman in the first Riverside game. Nelson Rogers, a steady freshman, and the 210-pound Ray Nowotny will fill left tackle, with Letterman Nowotny probably starting.

Wal Gunther, one of the most valuable men on the squad, will man right end on offense, and shift to safety on defense as he did so effectively against Fullerton. Perinich will serve at right end and outside halfback. Ben Slavin and Frank Kroener, other fine lettermen, will handle the left wing.

'Mental Attitude' To Decide J. C. Conflict; Victor Gets Glendale

Santa Ana and Riverside, the king-pins of Eastern division football, settle their differences in Fullerton's big stadium tomorrow in a championship play-off determining whether Dons or Bengals meet Glendale of the Western division for the Southern California jaycee association title next week. The kick-off has been set for 2 o'clock.

More than five thousand fans from Orange and Riverside counties are expected to attend the clash, which will be the first play-off in Eastern conference history. Santa Ana and Riverside finished their regular season as co-champions, tied for first place in the standing with a .750 percentage. They fought to a 14-14 draw at Riverside in October.

Observers believe the team with the best "mental attitude" will win tomorrow's conflict. Coach Bill Cook of Santa Ana joins Coach Jesse Morrison of Riverside in handing the game a strict touch-up, and both figure that a touchdown or less probably will decide the issue.

It should be a bruising battle between an unusually strong defensive team of the Dons and a brilliant, high-scoring offensive eleven of the Bengals.

Roasting a forward wall comprised of lettermen from wing to wing, the Santa Ana coaching staff hopes to see the Dons outcharge their invited visitors just as they did in their first conflict. The Bengals outweigh Santa Ana in the line, 189 pounds to 182, but this advantage is slight considering that the Dons are more experienced.

Santa Ana's champions can match Riverside's weight in the backfield by employing a new combination developed in drill this week, although Coach Cook probably will open with the same quarter-back Bruce Harnois, halfbacks Walt Hickman and Paul Perinich, fullback Wilburn Anderson. Under the possible new arrangement Anderson would shift to quarter. Hickman to full, and Clyde Birdsong would start at halfback, with Perinich or Bob Phipps. Dick Moore has been one of Santa Ana's most consistent gainers at fullback, and is certain to play much of the contest.

Service Clubs To Honor Dons On Dec. 27

Coach Bill Cook and his champion Santa Ana junior college football team will be honored at a combined meeting of Santa Ana service clubs at noon Thursday, December 27, in the American Legion hall, Justice Kenneth Morrison, president of the Lions club, announced today.

The speaker for the affair will be President Rufus B. von Kleinsmied of the University of Southern California. Coach Cook will introduce each of his players. Other county coaches will attend. The Dons lead for the Eastern conference leadership at the end of the regular season and play Riverside tomorrow in a playoff game to decide which school meets Glendale for the Southern California jaycee title.

Participating service clubs are the Lions, Rotary, Kiwanis, 20-20 club, Business and Professional Women, Orange County Trojan club and the Orange County Trojan Jan Women's club. Arrangements are being handled by Morrison and the Lions club, with the assistance of the Trojan club, which secured the speaker.

Riverside is relying on Quarter-back Merle Harris, conference scoring champion; Clarence Ross, 195-pound fullback; George Estrada, an Indian who passes remarkably well; Halfback Hugh Williams and "Bud" Langley, co-captains; a pair of aggressive tackles, Sherk and Nielsen; and a six-four wingman in Ben Thompson, among other things to return the title to Riverside.

Since each club possesses a fine attack through the air as well as on ground, the contest should pack thrills in every quarter. The game culminates the third season of play in the new Eastern conference which was re-organized in 1932. Riverside won the crown that year, but lost to Pasadena in the Southland play-off. Santa Ana annexed both the Eastern division and Southern California championships last fall.

Bleachers on the west side of Fullerton's stadium have been reserved for Santa Ana fans tomorrow, according to McKee Pisk, jaycee dean. Followers of the Dons are requested to enter the south gate.

A caravan, led by highway patrolmen, leaves the college building on North Main street at 1 p. m. The general public is invited to join the students in the parade to the game.

All tickets at the Fullerton gates will sell for 50 cents. Student tickets may be purchased at Walker's sporting goods store and the junior college office for 25 cents.

Fullerton will waive its rental fee of 10 per cent of the gate receipts for the use of its stadium tomorrow. It was decided in a special meeting of the Fullerton board of trustees today.

The action was taken at the suggestion of A. W. McDermoth of Pomona, conference athletic commissioner, and applauded by Santa Ana and Riverside authorities, who already had agreed to play under such financial arrangements rather than transfer the contest to another neutral field.

Centralia School District To Hold Bond Election

SEEK $30,000 FOR LAND AND NEW BUILDING

CENTRALIA, Dec. 7.—A special school bond election for $30,000 will be held in Centralia district in the near future. It was decided at Thursday night's mass meeting of district taxpayers in the school house. The proposed bond issue is to provide for the building of a one-story stucco building, containing five classrooms, auditorium, and two basement rooms to be used for manual training and domestic science. It is planned to purchase an additional acre and a half ground for the school.

The present school tax rate of the district is $1.13 with an additional 25 cents this year as a special tax as the money granted by the state from the average daily attendance did not cover the required budget of $5400. According to figures presented, the proposed bonds would add 20 cents to the school tax rate but would eliminate the necessity of special taxation as the board with a new building and ability to care for all the pupils in the district would demand state revenue based on the pupil population rather than on the average daily attendance, a ruling recently upheld by the state attorney general. A spot map, prepared by the state department of education of the division of school house planning and completed by the school principal, T. C. Bittle, shows a pupil population of 123 children in the district with 53 children of pre-school age up to six years.

The question of a bus was also discussed but definite decision was deferred until a later date. Members who took general charge of the meeting in the presentation of figures were Mead Shear, George E. Marshall and E. L. Davis.

TWO BREA CHURCH SOCIETIES MERGED

BREA, Dec. 7.—The Guild and the Missionary society of the Congregational church met Wednesday afternoon and became organized into the Women's Guild of service thereby combining the two groups and forming one which will include every woman in the church under one head.

Mrs. J. D. Neils, acting for Mrs. L. A. Hogue, who is still confined to her home recovering from injuries received in an automobile accident some time ago, presided and was elected president of the new union. Other officers for the year will be Mrs. C. R. Negley, first vice president; Mrs. R. M. Ross, second vice president; Mrs. J. H. Fields, third vice president; Mrs. W. W. Hay, secretary; Mrs. A. A. Voorhes, treasurer; Mrs. Phoebe Spensley, benevolent treasurer.

Meetings will be held on the first Wednesday of each month, beginning with a plate luncheon served at 12:30 o'clock with a program to follow. Others present were Mrs. W. D. Tremaine, Mrs. John Dulins, Mrs. J. C. Gourley, Mrs. D. W. Goodwin and Mrs. Leslie R. Thwing.

HEADS CLUB

James D. Watkins, who was elected president of the Newport Harbor Service Club this week. He will lead the club for a period of six months, succeeding Walter Soicer, Newport Beach.

SERVICE CLUB PREPARES FOR ANNUAL PARTY

BREA, Dec. 7.—Dr. Glenn Curtis, presiding at the luncheon meeting of the Brea Lions club this week, named E. H. Peterkin as chairman of the Christmas tree program. Others on the committee are J. H. Robinson, Dr. C. C. Jarvis, W. A. Culp and Eddy Branner. The committee will assist in decorating and in securing gifts for the Christmas tree party which is annually held in the city park for the children of the community.

The Lions accepted an invitation from the American Legion post of Brea to attend a turkey dinner which the post is giving in the Legion hall on the evening of December 22. Mayor L. A. Hogue, who some weeks ago received serious injuries in an automobile accident, attended the luncheon meeting, this being his first time out since the accident.

Scoutmaster Vincent E. Jaster introduced the members of Troop No. 97 and 10 new members were accepted into the troop and given badges by Harrison White, Scout commissioner of the county. Jaster was presented with a Scoutmaster's badge.

J. R. Collins, as chairman of the program, presented Mrs. Lina Russell, who gave two readings, "A Pat on the Back" and "If We Only Understood." Five minute talks on their lives before coming to Brea were given by Edward Ward, Elmer Guy, Earl Templeman and Mark McMahon.

Sheriff Logan Jackson was a guest and spoke briefly on affairs of his office. Other guests were W. T. Lambert of Santa Ana, Lotus Loudon, Herbert Eldridge and Dr. J. H. Boege of Anaheim.

STORY HOUR IS ARRANGED FOR MESA LIBRARY

COSTA MESA, Dec. 7.—In addition to featuring a shelf of the latest books for December the Costa Mesa library is presenting a children's story hour Saturday afternoon between the hours of 10 and 11 in the forenoon, with an outstanding story telling and reading artist in charge, according to an announcement made today by the manager of the library, Miss Sarah Conant.

Adult fiction volumes read during the past month showed an increase of over 100 over the preceding month. An increase of almost 300 books of all classes loaned was shown. Twenty-three new readers were added to the library membership list in October and 19 were added in November.

Books displayed on the feature shelf include, "Men of the Outer Islands," Beach; "The House and the Sea," Bojer; "Mary Peters," Chase; "The Man on the White Horse," Deering; "Duel," Fagan; "The Westwood Mystery," Fielding; "Ridgeway," Fox; "Four Generations," Jacob; "Long Remember," Kantor; "Company Parade," Jameson; "The Mathilda Hunter Murder," Keeler; "Valcour Meets Murder," King; "All's Fair," Landau; "Retreat From Glory," Lockhart; "Business Hours," McGraw; "Once a Wilderness," Pound; "Woman Astride," Purtscher; "Tales of East and West," Rohmer; "The Folks," Suckow; "This Green Thicket World," Vines; "American Secret Service Agent," Wilkie; "Escape From the Soviets," Tchernavin; and "One's Company," Fleming.

Adult fiction numbers added include "The Field God," Green; "In Abraham's Bosom," and "Haunted Bookshop," Morley; "Sun Hawk," Chambers; "A Golden Highway," Glascock; "Forgive Us Our Tresspasses," Douglas; "I Follow the Road," Payson; "The Third Son," Banning; "Rock of the Lion," Seawall; "His Soul Goes Marching On," Andrews; "The Woman She Was," Stevking; "Flaming Forest," Inwood; "The Ship Without a Crew," Pease; "Pitcairn's Island," Nordhoff; and "Ranchers" and "Blazed Trail," White.

Nonfiction numbers are, "Art as Experience," Dewey; "Working Through at Lincoln High," Gollomb; "I Worked for the Soviet," Tolstara; "Northanger Abbey," Austen; "Pep," Hunter; "The Art of Helping People Out of Trouble," De Schweinitz; "Mental Hygiene," Williams; and "About Ourselves," Oversheet.

Royal Neighbors Plan Card Party

OCEANVIEW, Dec. 7.—An invitation to the public to attend the Royal Neighbors card party scheduled for Monday evening at Memorial hall, Huntington Beach, has been issued by the local chairman, Mrs. Opal Treese. Others on the committee on entertainment are Mrs. Dewey Woods, Mrs. C. P. Lambert, Mrs. Margaret Mowley, Mrs. Rose Bruce, Mrs. May Richie, Mrs. Bell Brashear, Mrs. Matilda Reed and Mrs. James. Playing will start at 8:15 o'clock and a number of prizes will be awarded.

MIDWAY CITY MAY ABANDON SEWER PLANS

MIDWAY CITY, Dec. 7.—Plans for the formation of a sewer district for Midway City probably will be abandoned indefinitely, it was learned, following a report of Ray Overacker, Huntington Beach attorney, to the executive board of the Midway City Chamber of Commerce this week. Provisions of the District Investigation Act of 1933 make the formation of a district impossible at this time, Overacker reported.

The act provides that where assessments or delinquent taxes approximate more than 50 per cent of the total value of any parcel of land equal to five per cent of the total area to be incorporated, there can be no district formed. A report filed by George Bates, Santa Ana engineer, shows that a 10 per cent parcel of land in the proposed district has outstanding taxes of more than 50 per cent of its value against it.

Only three alternatives were open to the Midway City group, Overacker stated. These would be the amendment of the act, through legislative action; the formation of a district under a special act, also through legislative action; or the incorporation of a city, in order to form a municipal district. Neither alternative is practical at the present time, it was stated.

The committee working on the proposition is composed of Morton Holt, E. N. McAllister, J. H. Pryor and Dr. Russell I. Johnson. A final meeting on the question will be held next week, it was stated.

CHURCH ARRANGES EXHIBIT OF BIBLES

BREA, Dec. 7.—Observing the 400th anniversary of the completion of Luther's translation of the Bible, December 9 has been set aside as Bible Sunday at the Christian church here, it is announced by the pastor, the Rev. Frank V. Stipp.

Bibles from various parts of the world, including China, Japan, the Philippines, the Belgian Congo and the famous early translations made by Mrs. Royal J. Dye for the savages in the Congo will be exhibited. The collection will be available to the public during the morning and evening service hours and during the afternoon in the church auditorium.

In the morning the pastor will speak on "The Greatest Book in the World." All Bible lovers are extended an invitation to attend. Space is being reserved for the exhibit for the display of other Bibles owned by persons in the community which because of their age or other circumstances would create interest.

Cypress P-T. A. Holds Christmas Party On Dec. 20

CYPRESS, Dec. 7.—Discussion of plans for the Christmas program scheduled for December 20 featured the meeting of the P-T. A. held Tuesday afternoon. As a means of raising funds for this entertainment, a benefit card party will be held December 12 at the schoolhouse.

Because of lack of room, the Christmas program is to be held out of doors with a community sing as an important item of the program.

A second organization meeting for the Boy Scout troop, sponsored by the chamber of commerce, is scheduled for Friday evening at the school house it was announced.

At the close of a routine business hour, P-T. A. members inspected the new school bus which was delivered this week.

ENTERTAINS SECTION

SAN JUAN CAPISTRANO, Dec. 7.—Beautiful roads added charm to the home of Mrs. Daniel J. McHenry when she entertained members of the Home Economics section of the Capistrano Woman's club this week. The afternoon was spent in visiting and sewing.

Those sharing the afternoon together with the hostess were Mrs. F. W. Rogers, Mrs. Paul Evans, Mrs. A. W. Spier, Mrs. Beale Montague and Mrs. Robert Scott of San Juan Capistrano, and Mrs. S. I. Roseman of Dana Point.

Dinner Held By Girl Reserves Of La Habra, Mothers

LA HABRA, Dec. 7.—A mother and daughter potluck supper was held by the La Habra Girl Reserves at the social hall of the Methodist church Tuesday night. Special guests were Miss Edna Munford, secretary of the Y. M. C. A. work in Orange county, and the Rev. H. O. Simmons.

Nellie Mae Johnson, president of the La Habra organization, introduced the presidents of the four Girl Reserve groups in La Habra. They are Evelyn Sutton, fifth grade; Rachael Wolfe, sixth grade; Claudia Jones, seventh grade and Evelyn Redfern, eighth grade. Each president gave a short report of the activities of her group.

Advisors of the organization also were introduced by the president. They are Miss Avis Elder, Miss Margaret Thornton, Miss Winona Zumwalt and Mrs. L. E. Wagner.

BOY SCOUTS OF OCEANVIEW TO HOLD PROGRAM

OCEANVIEW, Dec. 7.—Oceanview Boy Scouts and Cub Scouts will observe sports night next Tuesday, with fathers and mothers of the boys as guests of honor at a 6:30 o'clock pot luck dinner.

Scoutmaster Joe Thompson and Ted Case, Cub Scout chairman, have invited a number of football coaches and players to be present. U. S. C. is expected to be represented by Jeff Cravath, freshman football coach, and either Capt. Julie Bescoe or "Cotton" Warburton. Coach Bill Cook of the Santa Ana Junior College and a member of his team and members of the Huntington Beach Union High school squad are expected to be present.

The program will open with the flag salute and an address of welcome to parents by James Lewis. A camp scene will be enacted by Scouts under direction of Scout Ingorsol. A demonstration of fire by Scouts Harding and Holt. The tent pitching demonstration will be led by James West. A pyramid building demonstration will also be on the program.

Singing will be under the leadership of W. H. Saxton of the school and Scout Attaway will be the soloist. Taps will be sounded by Scout Simmons. Scout Executive Harrison White is expected to be present.

OFFICERS ELECTED BY RELIEF CORPS

COSTA MESA, Dec. 7.—Mrs. Maude Joseph was re-elected president of J. N. Stiffler post No. 145, V.R.C., at the regular meeting of the post in the social hall of the Community church Wednesday.

Other officers elected were senior vice president, Mrs. Phoebe Mortimer; junior vice president, Mrs. Daisy Radabaugh; treasurer, Mrs. Etta Tead; chaplain, Mrs. Alice King; conductor, Mrs. Ida Wood; guard, Mrs. Alice Straight; Daisy Radabaugh was elected as delegate to the state convention to be held at Modesto and Mrs. Alvina Ober was elected as alternate. Mrs. Alice Straight, Mrs. Margaret Long, Mrs. Alvina Ober and Mrs. Daisy Radabaugh were appointed as national aides.

The welfare chairman, Mrs. Alice King, reported $5.95 given in relief work. She also reported 35 social calls; 21 sick calls, and bouquets given, 26. Mrs. H. B. McMurtry, Mrs. A. Rudder and Mrs. Cora Ballou were reported as ill.

Those in attendance were Mesdames Etta Tead, Clara Rollins, Ida Wood, Alice Wing, Alice Straight, Pearl Brown, Myrna Whitney, Estelle Miller, Daisy Radabaugh, Phoebe Mortimer, Maude Joseph, Margaret Long, and Alvina Ober and Miss Gladys Straight.

Work Under Way On Park Pergola

LAGUNA BEACH, Dec. 7.—Generous donations of food, clothing, furniture and other articles are being received by the Jahraus Park guild for the food and rummage benefit sale to be held at the Little Red Hen market on Coast boulevard, December 14 and 15. It was announced today by Mrs. George A. Portus, member of the committee on arrangements.

Work on the pergola and seat at the park has started and several workmen are on the job, it was stated by Mrs. James Ross, member of the park committee. New members of the guild are Mr. and Mrs. George Jeffrey, of Irvine; Eleanor C. Zannhiser, Laguna Beach; Mrs. A. E. Zapp, Orange; Mrs. E. F. Ray, Mary Harrington and Mary Bess Henry, all of Laguna.

YULE FAIR AND PROGRAM HELD AT COSTA MESA

COSTA MESA, Dec. 7.—Thirty quilts representing a wide range of patterns and ages were featured at the P-T. A. Christmas fair and program given in the Woman's clubhouse this week. Mrs. Jo Payne was awarded first honor for the oldest appliqued quilt in the show.

Mrs. N. O. Mellott presented the oldest piece quilt, Mrs. J. E. Richardson showed the largest collection and the finest specimen of quilting Mrs. Lawrence Wright presented the newest thing in appliqued work and Mrs. J. J. Cunningham was given credit for showing the best specimen of a modern piece pattern.

Those winning prizes in the contests of the day were Mrs. George Bremer, Mrs. Floyd Marsh and Miss Muriel Davidson. Many other minor prizes and gifts were distributed. Mrs. C. H. McAlary was in charge of the fair arrangements.

A Christmas entertainment, including a Christmas play and carol singing by children of the intermediate grades of the local school, was presented in the early afternoon and again at 7:30 o'clock. Mrs. Stella Caff directed the presentation of the play and Mrs. Nellie Long directed the singing of Christmas carols. Mrs. Sidney H. Davidson, program chairman of the P-T. A., was in charge of the entertainment.

Dinner was served to over 150 people by Mrs. Fred Timm, chairman of the ways and means committee of the association, assisted by room mothers and other members of the organization.

The distribution of 19 Thanksgiving baskets was reported by Mrs. Maude Davis, association welfare chairman, during the business session. Mrs. Davis also announced that arrangements were being made for the distribution of Christmas baskets. Mrs. John Webster, president, named Mrs. C. H. McAlary as membership chairman and Mrs. R. W. McEllan as summer roundup chairman.

CHRISTMAS PARTY ENJOYED BY CLUB

GARDEN GROVE, Dec. 7.—Members of the Three "N" twenty club held their annual Christmas party and gift exchange when they met at the home of Mrs. Walter Dungan on East Ocean avenue Tuesday. The program was in charge of Mrs. Albert Schneider. After prizes for the games had been awarded to Mrs. Ralph Chaffee and Mrs. Andrew Smiley appropriate Christmas readings were given by Little Jean Holt. Mrs. Ray Johnson was welcomed into the club as a new member by the president, Mrs. C. G. Hall.

The home was decorated with a large Christmas tree and baskets of cottonseed berries. Refreshments of cranberry sauce filled with chicken salad, hot rolls, fruit cake and coffee were served on individual trays. Small silver boxes tied with red ribbon and containing nuts and candies and Christmas napkins carried out the Christmas theme.

Those present were Mesdames Ralph Chaffee, C. G. Crosby, E. W. Edwards, Irvine German, C. G. Hall, Wilbur Harper, Wayne Holt, Wesley Lamb, Ray Johnson, J. L. Mitchell, F. A. Monroe, W. W. Perkins Jr., Clifton Bryan, R. H. Rossett, L. W. Schauer, Albert Schneider, Edwin Smiley and Walter Dungan. Children present were Jean Holt, Harvey Bryan, Jackie Edwards and Muriel Dungan.

Winifred Walton Birthday Honoree

WESTMINSTER, Dec. 7.—Complimenting their niece and cousin, Miss Winifred Walton, of Westminster, on her birthday anniversary, Mrs. Lloyd Edwards and Miss Evelyn Edwards of Villa Park entertained with a party this week at the home of Winifred's aunt, Mrs. Frances Penhall. Games entertained and refreshments of brioche, cake and cocoa were served.

Present were Winifred Dalton, Marian Parker, Bertha Mosinger, Ruth Stephenson, Burton Jones, Don Walker, Richard Ferguson, Marvin Penhall, Delbert Penhall, Frances Christopher, Barbara Campbell and Mrs. Charles Walton. Mrs. Frances Penhall, Mrs. Lloyd Edwards and Miss Evelyn Edwards were present.

Wintersburg Church to Observe Anniversary Sunday Afternoon

WINTERSBURG, Dec. 7.—Observance of the 30th anniversary of the founding of the church, dedication exercises on the new church will be held Sunday afternoon by members and friends of the Japanese Presbyterian church of Wintersburg road.

The Rev. K. Kikuchi, pastor of the church for the past nine years, has arranged a varied program from 2 to 4 o'clock and prominent laymen and ministers of the state will join in extending well wishes to the congregation. There are more than 2500 Japanese in Orange county and an attendance of from 400 to 500 is expected for the Sunday program.

A campaign to raise funds for the new church has been in progress for several years and finishing touches on the work are being applied this week. The old structure has been moved to the rear of the lot and has been converted into Sunday School rooms and an educational building.

The main speaker at the dedication will be the Rev. B. H. Terasawa, of San Francisco, first pastor of the church. Charles M. Furuta, first member of the church and now elder, will tell the history of the first mission established in December, 1904. The Rev. O. Scott McFarland of the Santa Ana Presbyterian church will speak on behalf of Presbyterian churches of Orange county and Dr. Guy W. Wadsworth, of the church extension board in Los Angeles, and Dr. Philip Payne, head of Oriental work of national missions, from San Francisco, will speak briefly.

The dedication prayer will be given by the Rev. Robert Burns McAulay, of Orange. Dr. John G. Klene, of Westminster, will give the benediction and the Rev. Thomas H. Walker, of Anaheim, chairman of the building committee, will report on the progress of the church.

Music will include a vocal solo, "Open the Gates of the Temple," by Miss Mary Chino and a violin solo, "Romance," by Miss Sumi Akidama. After the service, panorama and motion pictures will be taken and tea and refreshments served.

Dinner Held by Scouts, Parents

WESTMINSTER, Dec. 7.—With Scout Executive Harrison White as the principal speaker, Boy Scouts and Cub Scouts and their parents held a dinner Wednesday evening at the new Scout cabin. Approximately 70 were present.

A program including fire building by friction by Bill Clinton and Lemuel McDaniel, demonstration of first aid bandaging by Harvey Arnett and Burton Jones and knot tying by Cub Scouts Herbert Day and Chester Hemstreet was presented.

MESA CHURCH PLANS CHRISTMAS SERVICE

COSTA MESA, Dec. 7.—A Christmas program, to be given by the children of the church, will be presented Sunday evening, December 23, according to final arrangements made by teachers and officers of the Community church school in a meeting held in the chapel Wednesday night.

A Christmas tree is planned and white gifts will be brought to be turned over to the Methodist church hospital. The Friendly class of the church school, E. A. Rea, teacher, will have charge of the distribution of gifts. The leaders, the Rev. Wilfred Brown, teacher, will be in charge of decorations and the Loyal Workers, Mrs. Grow S. Brown, teacher, will participate in other arrangements. The Rev. Grow S. Brown, superintendent of the school, was in charge.

A church school leaders' and teachers' training course will be held in conjunction with the monthly school board meetings. It was decided. The Rev. Mr. Brown will direct the study, which is to be in the nature of a supervised discussion.

RECENT FILMS REVIEWED BY CITY P.-T.A.

Recommendations regarding recently released motion pictures reviewed by the California Congress of Parents and Teachers were released publicly today through Mrs. M. W. Hollingsworth, chairman of the motion picture committee of the Santa Ana Council of Parents and Teachers. Comment on the films previewed follows:

"Chu Chin Chow." Gaumont-British production with Anna May Wong, Fritz Kortner and George Robey. "Ali Baba and the Forty Thieves" march across the screen in a lavish and spectacular production. Family. Adults, entertaining. 14-18, possibly. $14 too exciting, involved."

"College Rhythm." Paramount production with Jack Oakie, Joe Penner, Lanny Ross, Helen Mack and Mary Brian. "A lightweight musical revue with a college background, catchy songs and sprightly dances. Family and junior matinee. Adults, entertaining. 8-18, yes."

"Flirtation Walk." First National production with Dick Powell, Ruby Keeler and Pat O'Brien. "With flaps flying and drums beating, we follow the romance of an ambitious young private, who, fired by love for the commander's daughter, aspires to be an officer and a gentleman via West Point. Adults, good. 8-18, excellent."

"The St. Louis Kid." Warner production with James Cagney, Patricia Ellis, Allen Jenkins and Robert Barrat. "Two truck drivers' love for a fight frequently lands them in jail. Adults, a waste of time. 8-18, no."

"Sequoia." MGM production with Jean Parker, Russell Hardie and Paul Hurst. "One marvels at the skill and patience required to capture so elusive a drama as unfolds in this simple tale of animal life in our great Sierra forests. Built on the premises that hunger and not hatred force wild animals to prey on each other, we watch like eavesdroppers the strange life long friendship of Malibu, the great deer, and Gato, the mountain puma. This unusual feature combines many scenes of breath-taking beauty and drama and should be seen by all nature lovers of all ages. Family and junior matinee. Adults and 8-18 excellent."

"The Silver Streak." RKO production with Charles Starrett, Sally Blane, Martha Sleeper and Hardie Albright. "Racing across the continent with death comes the ultra-modern streamline Burlington Zephyr, renamed for the opus, 'The Silver Streak.' Not only a thrilling epic of modern mechanical progress but also a fine medium for many cross-country shots, including the Century of Progress and Boulder Dam. Excellent cast and direction. Family and junior matinee."

ACCORDION BAND TO PLAY MONDAY NIGHT

A special program to which the public is invited will be presented under the auspices of the Christian Chorus class of the First Christian church Monday night at 7:30 o'clock, it was announced today.

Miguel Verdugo and his well known accordion band of 14 of Long Beach will be presented in a musical program. Special solos and duets will be given during the evening program at the church, located at Sixth and Broadway.

County C. of C. To Meet Tuesday

Regular monthly meeting of the Associated Chambers of Commerce of Orange county will be held at the Parish Hall, St. Paul's Lutheran church at Olive, Tuesday night at 8:30 o'clock, it was announced today by Secretary George A. Raymer.

An interesting and entertaining program has been arranged by the Olive Improvement association. There will be speakers who will discuss the building and loan associations of Orange county and how the Associated may be helpful in solving some of their problems, the announcement said.

S. A. GIRL CHOSEN ORATORIO SOLOIST

REDLANDS, Dec. 7.—Miss Mary Nalle of Santa Ana, a music student at the University of Redlands, has been chosen as one of the four Redlands students to sing the solo parts of the "Messiah," to be presented by the Glendale Oratorio Society, under the sponsorship of the Community Music association on Wednesday evening, December 12, at the Redlands high school auditorium.

Miss Nalle has sung solo parts with other musical organizations during the past year and will be heard in the contralto selections from the "Messiah." She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles G. Nalle, 814 South Birch street, Santa Ana, and attended the Santa Ana high school and Junior college.

Pioneer's Memory To Be Honored By Historical Group

Meeting at the Bowers museum, at North Main and Twentieth streets, the Orange County Historical society tonight will pay tribute to the memory of the late Judge J. E. Pleasants of Trabuco, who came across the plains to this section in '49.

William McPherson will give a biographical sketch of the beloved pioneer, and other memorial talks will be made by T. E. Stephenson and Dr. C. D. Ball.

The address of the evening will be delivered by Mrs. M. C. Maloney of Santa Ana, her topic being "Early Trade and Trails Between Oregon and California." Mrs. Maloney has done considerable research work in the Oregon state and Bancroft libraries on the subject. She also plans to display a number of valuable maps. The public is invited to the meeting, which begins at 7:30.

Local Poultry in Exhibit at Norco

The first annual Norco Poultry Show opened at Norco, located four miles north of Corona, today with many entries from Orange county.

A large crowd attended the opening, attracted not only by the numerous displays of poultry, but also by the interesting exhibits of the merchants and poultry supply dealers. The management was forced to turn down some entries because of the large number of entries.

Talks by University of California experts on the program each day 4 p. m. and every evening hand-outs are presented. Numerous prizes are to be awarded. Admission is free. The show will continue throughout today, Saturday and Sunday.

RELIEF DIRECTOR DIAGNOSIS
RADICALISM AS "REDDISH RASH CAUSED BY MALNUTRITION"

Radicalism is nothing more than a reddish rash that is caused by malnutrition, Terrence Halloran, county SERA director, explained to an audience at Willard school last night, where he discussed the SERA and declared that "better planning" is needed.

Better planning, he said, is needed for the spending of federal relief funds, and for the $24,000,000 state relief bonds voted last month, which must be expended by next July 1.

Better planning in other respects also is needed, he indicated, with the statement that "we have been looking for too much from far away," referring to federal aid.

This federal aid, however, has been mislabeled a "dole" when it is not, said Halloran. A dole is given without anything received in return; our unemployed work for this federal relief, he pointed out. "It is no longer regarded as charity, as in the beginning," said Halloran. "One-fifth of our national population is on relief. Seven per cent of California citizens are affected. It runs as high as 29 per cent in West Virginia."

Good Increased
Incidentally, there were 1300 families on relief in Orange county last June at the start of the SERA program—and there are 4600 families in the county on relief now, Halloran revealed, in answer to a question.

About 800 of the county's unemployed have not been placed on jobs, chiefly because of lack of projects offered by the various communities or political subdivisions, whose duty it is to provide the projects for their unemployed, the speaker stated, going on to deliver his remarks about better planning.

While the local relief rolls have increased, unemployment in the country as a whole has decreased, he said. Last April there were 17,000,000 unemployed in the United States. In July there were 13,000,000. The improvement, said Halloran, apparently due, directly and indirectly, to other measures of the New Deal as well as the relief program.

Halloran, speaking on the regular Thursday evening lecture program of the adult education department, described the gradual development of present "relief plans and machinery, as the product of the current depression; the country having "wiggled" through previous depressions without planning, he said.

Traces Movement
There were 3,000,000 unemployed in 1928, before the depression, but unemployment was never recognized as a social problem until the present emergency, he stated. Recounting the early depression moves, the "give a man a job" idea being followed by the use of tax money for relief. Local communities then began starting work projects, and, in some instances, voted bond issues for relief.

In 1931, said the speaker, $90,000,000 was spent by public and private agencies for relief. One eastern city voted $5,000,000 in 40-year bonds; the money was spent in five months, but the next two generations must pay for the bonds.

Then developed the migration of easterners for the "frontiers," which gave birth to what is called the transient problem. Only Pennsylvania, among the states, tried to keep its people at home with a work program, said Halloran.

In 1932 the cooperative idea originated at Seattle, and has spread over the country. In 1932 also, federal relief was started.

To give an idea of the change in "thinking" upon the relief question, Halloran cited that when federal relief was first initiated, congress proposed an appropriation of $10,000,000 for the Red Cross, to be used for relief. Little more than a year later, congress passed the Wagner bill, carrying $300,000,000 for relief aid to the states, to cover a two-year period. The FEERA, created by this act, will pass out of existence next May 12. Whether federal aid continues is a question to be solved by the approaching session of congress, he stated.

Government Load Heavy
The government has carried a large portion of the relief load, said Halloran: 99 per cent in South Carolina; 47 per cent in California. Over the country as a whole, relief has been financed 60 per cent by the federal government, 7 per cent by state funds, and 33 per cent by local taxes.

The $24,000,000 bonds voted by California last month, is the first money this state has provided for relief. The previous $20,000,000 bonds went as loans to the counties, to be repaid from local shares of the gas tax. There are 450,000 jobless in California now, he said.

A questioner in the audience asked Halloran "why it takes from three weeks to a month to get a work order through" the county SERA offices. Halloran replied that there are few such cases, but explained that there has been an increase in the time required to put work orders through. Men could formerly be put to work within a week or ten days of the time they applied for jobs.

But relief applicants have increased at the rate of 300 per week, while the SERA administrative staff has not been increased; thus the load on each investigator has been tremendously increased, he said, necessarily slowing the employment process. Another reason for delay in getting men to work, he said, has been the failure of local communities or subdivisions to present projects, as they are supposed to be. The SERA, he said, had been forced to get out and "rustle" projects itself.

Factory Established
When Halloran mentioned that in San Bernardino county there has been established a factory by the cooperatives, employing 600 women, and producing goods for the use of the unemployed, another questioner wanted to know why this county should not have such a project, and asked "who has the deciding of the policy regarding production for use?" Halloran informed him that the governing board of the political subdivision sponsoring any project decides such matters. "You mean that in this county, it would be up to the county su-

REV. SCHROCK HONOR GUEST AT RECEPTION

Further honors in recognition of his 20 years service as pastor of the First Congregational church of Santa Ana were accorded the Rev. Perry F. Schrock by his congregation yesterday, following the special anniversary service at the church last Sunday.

Socially complimenting the pastor with a reception in the east lobby of the Y.M.C.A., members of the church and other friends of the Rev. Mr. Schrock assembled for a pleasant afternoon and evening. The reception continued from 3 to 5 and 7 to 9 p.m. Beautiful decorations, including the table across one end of the lobby, where light refreshments were served, combined with the cheerful open fire to heighten enjoyment of the occasion.

As a mark of their esteem and appreciation of his fellowship as well as his long service, a substantial purse was presented to the pastor by the congregation, with A. J. Cruickshank, one of the oldest members of the church, making the presentation.

The reception was sponsored by the Women's union and the Men's brotherhood of the church.

Strangers Lose
To Grocers, 52-42

COSTA MESA, Dec. 7.—The Pay'n Takit basketball team of the Community Basketball league won over the Balboa Strangers by a score of 52 to 42 in the Newport Harbor Union High school gymnasium Tuesday evening, and the Kappa Alpha Phi won over the Costa Mesa Holy Rollers by a score of 26 to 14. Arthur "Butch" Crawley was the outstanding player of the evening, making a total of 28 points for his team.

The standing of the teams follows: Pay'n Takit, won 4 and lost 1; Kappa Alpha Phi, won 4 and lost 1; Holy Rollers, won 3 and lost 2; and the Balboa Strangers lost five.

It was announced by Coach Ralph Reed that the games will be played next Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock instead of on Tuesday evening as in the past. "That's right. They are your elected representatives," Halloran told him.

Preceding Halloran's talk, a musical program was presented by the SERA band, under direction of T. Dunstan Collins; a trio composed of Vernon Claytor, Sadie Green and Blanche Owens, with Jane Ithea as accompanist; a trumpet solo by Wayne Glade; and a violin solo by Simon Plas. Mrs. Green was vocalist with the band in the presentation of "The Firefly."

Mrs. Golden Weston, director of adult education, explained that the entire program last night was arranged as a demonstration of educational projects of SERA, which are under supervision of W. W. Wieman, for the Santa Ana schools. She called upon Wieman to introduce Halloran.

Next week's program, Mrs. Weston announced, would be a further exposition of the emergency education program, with Mrs. Lucy Wilcox Adams, of the state department of education, speaking on the emergency education program and workers' education. An all-Spanish program of music will be presented. The date is Thursday, December 13.

Win Highest U. S. Farm Honors

Proudest young farmers in the land were Mary E. Wien, left, 17-year-old Lafayette, Ind. girl, and William Kiesel, Jr., right, 20-year-old Pryor, Okla. youth, when they were awarded the coveted President Roosevelt cups for farm achievements under the 4-H Club program. The two are pictured at the International Livestock Show in Chicago, where the presentations were made.

CAREFUL DRIVERS GET BEST MILEAGE

In a recent tire mileage test conducted by the United States Rubber company, in which 30 drivers participated, it was discovered that the 10 best drivers got an average of 20,231 miles out of their tires, as contrasted with the 10 poorest drivers, according to Jerry Hall, local United States tire dealer. Second and Main streets. The 10 medium drivers averaged 14,958 miles.

Each driver used the same make and model of car, each used the same make of tires, and each drove in the same section of the country. Out of the 30 cars measured, five obtained from 7200 to 9400 miles from their tires, seven obtained 11,500 to 13,700 miles; seven got 14,300 to 15,800 miles; six got 16,100 to 18,700 miles, and five obtained 20,700 to 27,600 miles.

The driver who starts and stops with moderation and who seldom exceeds 40 miles per hour, company engineers say, will get at least twice the tire mileage obtained by the slam-bang operator. And, they add, either type of driver will get from seven to 36 per cent more mileage from tires built of Tempered rubber.

Turkey Shoot Is Planned By Post

COSTA MESA, Dec. 7.—A target shooting contest between traffic officers of Orange and Riverside counties will be held in conjunction with a turkey shoot sponsored by the local American Legion post Sunday, December 16, according to an announcement made today by George Grupe, adjutant of the local post and chairman of the committee on arrangements.

The program will be held along the Coast highway just east of the Arches service station, it was stated, and suitable prizes will be given for winners in rifle, pistol and trap shooting. At a joint session of Legion and auxiliary members in the local post headquarters this week preliminary arrangements were made for the holding of a Christmas program for all ex-service men and their families in the Woman's clubhouse December 23 at 2 o'clock.

Court Notes

Edward Rota, charged with disturbing the peace, was given a 90 day suspended jail sentence by Judge J. G. Mitchell yesterday.

George Clock, 38, Anaheim, was booked at the county jail yesterday by Anaheim police to serve a six month term for drunkenness.

SERVICE CLUBS TO HOLD JOINT MEET DEC. 27

President Rufus B. von Klein-Smidt, president of the University of Southern California, will be the main speaker at a combined meeting of all Santa Ana service clubs and the Orange County Trojan clubs at noon on Thursday, December 27, it was announced today.

The joint meeting will serve to end the year for outgoing officials of the participating clubs, which include the Lions, Rotary, Kiwanis, 20-30, Business and Professional Women, Orange County Trojan Men's club and Orange County Trojan Women's club. The affair will be held in the American Legion hall and from 400 to 500 persons are expected to attend.

Guests of honor will be members of the championship Santa Ana Junior college football team, scheduled to play Riverside tomorrow in a playoff game for the league title. Members of the coaching staff as well as other county athletic coaches will be present.

Dr. von Klein-Smidt, an authority on world affairs, completed a tour of the Orient this summer and is expected to tell of his travels and observations in many countries. He will be accompanied to Santa Ana by several Trojan officials.

Since both the Rotary and 20-30 club meetings are on Tuesday, and would necessarily be cancelled because of Christmas Day on December 25, these and the other clubs are setting their meetings for the week for the combined affair.

Approximately 60 per cent of the visitors to Yellowstone National park are women.

SAFETY WORK GETS RESULTS;
NO SCHOOL CHILDREN KILLED
DURING THREE YEAR PERIOD

Showing that not one child has been killed going to or from school in three years and that Orange county school buses received an equipment rating of 97 per cent last year, Captain Henry Meehan of the California Highway Patrol and safety chairman of the Fourth District P.T.A., gave a report at the president's council yesterday in the Spurgeon Memorial church.

The work of Patrolman George Peterkin, county safety chairman last year, was praised by Meehan as one of the factors in protecting school children. Safety plans for the coming year were outlined by Meehan and he promised the full cooperation of the highway patrol to maintain the fine record established in the county.

Presidents of local associations were introduced by council presidents and reports were given from each local group, showing a steady increase in membership, a great deal of welfare work being done and many Christmas parties and treats planned for the children.

Several schools reported the formation of a mother's chorus and in El Modena, the P.T.A. is sponsoring a soup kitchen where 60 children are being fed.

After the covered dish luncheon, the group adjourned to the Y. M. C. A. where Mrs. Evadna Perry, art instructor for the county schools, showed the moving pictures she and Mr. Perry had taken on a trip to Mexico this summer. Mrs. Ora K. Heine, Fourth District art chairman, was in charge of arrangements, being assisted by Mrs. Harold Greenwald, art chairman at McKinley school, Mrs. W. T. Kirven, of Buena Park, district president, led the business session.

BUILDERS TO HEAR TALK BY FHA DIRECTOR

Fred W. Marlow, district director of the Southern California area for the Federal Housing Administration, will be the featured speaker at the next regular dinner meeting of the Orange County Builders Exchange at James' cafe, Santa Ana, at 6:30 p. m. next Tuesday night. It was announced today.

Particular emphasis will be placed on discussion of Title II of the Federal Housing Act, it was announced by Frederic W. Sanford, secretary-manager of the Builders Exchange, who also is county director of the better housing program in this county.

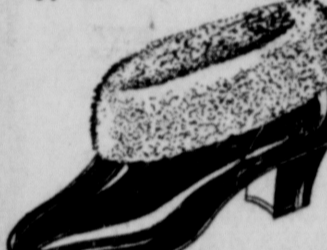

The meeting will be thrown open to the public and an special invitation will be extended to representatives of banks, building and loan associations, contractors, material dealers and others to be present, Sanford said.

In his talk Marlow will explain that maximum loans may be made to $16,000 on homes of one, two, three or four family size. These mortgages secured under provisions of Title II of the FHA are secured through financial institutions of all kinds, and may be secured for new construction for refinancing mortgages as of June 27, 1934.

COAT-LIKE LINES MAKE A SLENDERIZING DRESS

PATTERN 2051

BY ANNE ADAMS

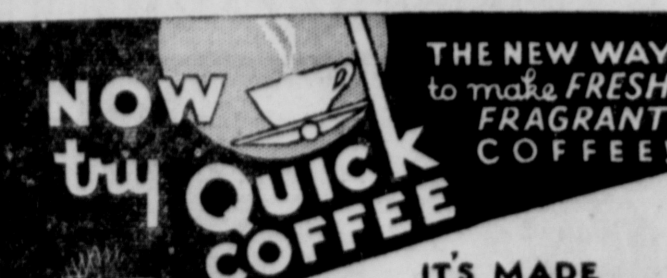

There'll be bridge, lunches, matinee parties, a thousand and one events for which you'll need a slenderizing coat-like dress such as the one we show you today. That uniquely "different" collar, with its one smartly wide rever, will do much toward concealing a "too chesty" appearance—the sleeves, full above the elbow, will hide the largeness of the upper arm—and the trim stitched seam up the front of the dress will seem to take inches from the hip-line. Make it of black wool-crepe with a rever of white bengaline. You'll be sure to be pleased with its clean-cut effect, so very flattering to the more mature figure.

Pattern 2051 is available in sizes 14, 16, 18, 20, 22, 24, 26, 28, 30, 32, 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, and 44. Size 36 takes 3 3/4 yards 39 inch fabric and 1/2 yard contrasting. Illustrated step-by-step sewing instructions included.

Send FIFTEEN CENTS (15c) in coins or stamps (coins preferred) for this Anne Adams pattern. Write plainly name, address and style number. BE SURE TO STATE SIZE.

SOCIETY HOLDS DISCUSSION ON LIFE IN JAPAN

ORANGE, Dec. 7.—"Japan" was the subject discussed at the regular meeting of the Women's Foreign Missionary society of the First Methodist church Thursday afternoon. A round table discussion was held under the direction of Mrs. James Winget who was leader of groups giving their attention to "The History of Japan." Mrs. L. L. Williams led the discussion on "Customs and Ceremonies of Japan," and Mrs. Harold Gilson on "Art and Music of Japan."

Mrs. George Horton, advisor of the Light Bearers' society, gave a report of activities of that group and her little daughter, Helen Horton, gave a pianologue with a Christmas theme. The program was opened with two Japanese piano numbers played by Mrs. Joseph N. Livernash.

Mrs. Carrie Riddle presided and led the devotional service from the topic, "Intercession Through Prayer." Mrs. James Winget sang "The Birthday of the King." She was accompanied by Mrs. Ola Hartman.

A report of a meeting in Los Angeles was given by Mrs. J. R. Kenyon.

Survey Ordered By Church Board

ORANGE, Dec. 7.—A committee is to be selected from members of the First Methodist church shortly to make a survey of the physical set-up of the church for future development, according to action taken at a meeting of the church board held Wednesday night, with the pastor, Dr. J. E. Dunning, presiding.

It was pointed out that the present church building is the result of a number of additions to a small structure erected in 1874.

While no definite plans are being made to remodel or rebuild the church, the committee is to study needs and to suggest changes which may be effected in the future.

PLAY GIVEN FOR BAPTIST SOCIETY

ORANGE, Dec. 7.—An interesting feature of a meeting of the Women's Missionary society of the First Baptist church, held Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Thomas Huffman was a play given by Miss Una Lee Bellows, Miss Evelyn Myracle and Miss Bernice Williams.

It was announced that the society has been placed on the honor roll of the state missionary society of the Baptist church. Devotionals were led by Mrs. Ida Linnell. Mite boxes for the missionary activity of the group were opened at the close of the meeting when it was revealed that the group had met its quota.

Mrs. Ralph Barnes, a member, was presented with a number of gifts. Refreshments of Christmas pudding, whipped cream and coffee were served to the following: Mrs. W. H. Foskett, Mrs. Ida Linnell, Miss Una Lee Bellows, Miss Evelyn Myracle, Miss Bernice Williams, Mrs. Horace Newman, Mrs. Ida Putnam, Mrs. Clara Anderson, Mrs. J. E. Smiley, Mrs. Ellen Johnson, Mrs. H. F. Sheerer, Mrs. Strowbridge, Mrs. Roy Decker, Mrs. J. W. Wade, Mrs. Heder, Mrs. Alice Burns, Mrs. John Wilson, Mrs. Sprague, Mrs. Ralph Barnes, Mrs. J. Webster, Mrs. George Slater, Mrs. Hazel Hasty, Mrs. McClure, Mrs. Tob Brown, Mrs. Emma Pague and Miss Laura Spotts.

NEW OFFICERS SELECTED FOR I. O. O. F. LODGE

ORANGE, Dec. 7.—Grover W. Lewellen was elected noble grand of the I. O. O. F. lodge Thursday night at a meeting held at the Odd Fellows' hall. Other officers are: vice grand, Garland Hedrick; recording secretary, Walter V. Crane; financial secretary, Fred Wells; and treasurer, M. V. Allen. The last three named were re-elected to their posts. Frank Batchelor was named as a new director.

Installation ceremonies will be held after the first of the year. Third degree work was accompanied by the lodge degree team with Mack Talbert as team captain.

Following an early adjournment, a large number of those present attended the Santa Ana Odd Fellows' dance and card party.

MODERN PRISCILLA CLUB ENTERTAINED

VILLA PARK, Dec. 7.—Mrs. C. W. Roseman, Cerro Villa Heights, was hostess Wednesday to members of the Modern Priscilla club when Christmas gifts for those in need were brought and are to be distributed by Mrs. Harry L. Tritt.

Mrs. George Holditch, president, appointed a nominating committee to select officers for the coming year. The report will be made at a meeting to be held January 2. The committee includes Mrs. Walter M. Rasch, Mrs. W. M. Tipple and Mrs. Homer E. Baker.

Refreshments were served on individual trays which held Christmas stockings of nuts and candies and a gift for each member. Those present were Mesdames Joseph M. Adams, Roy Adams, John Allen, Homer E. Baker, T. Brewer, Frank Collins, C. S. Crawford, H. H. Gardner, Louis De Long, Ralph Cruben, Ed Stanley, Arthur Strech, Albert Hughes, Walter M. Rasch, W. J. Sutherland, W. M. Tipple and Miss Margaret Holditch and Miss Elizabeth Lee.

Mennonite Church Bible Conference To Open Tonight

ORANGE, Dec. 7.—With the Rev. D. H. Scott, president of the Interdenominational School for Christian workers in charge, a Bible conference will open at the Mennonite church on Sycamore street tonight, it has been announced by the pastor of the church, the Rev. J. H. Hess.

The program announced for tomorrow and Sunday is as follows: Saturday, 10 a. m., speaker, the Rev. D. H. Scott; 2:30 p. m., speaker, Miss Mary Beard; 7:30 p. m., the Rev. Mr. Scott; Sunday, 10:30 a. m., speaker, Miss Beard; 2:30 p. m., speaker, the Rev. William Kirby, and 7 p. m., the Rev. Mr. Scott.

A large attendance is expected at the conference, the first to be held with the Rev. Mr. Hess, who arrived here recently from Casa Grande, Ariz.

TUSTIN

TUSTIN, Dec. 7.—Mrs. George Wanger and baby son Bruce, who have been enjoying an extended visit with Mrs. Wanger's mother, Mrs. Gladys Caldwell, left recently for their home in Paris, France, where Mrs. Wanger's husband is a comedian in a large theater.

B. H. Sharpless returned recently from a month's vacation in Mexico where he bagged an antelope.

Mr. and Mrs. William Adams of Timber Lake, S. D., are house guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Winter, B street.

V. F. W. Auxiliary In Card Affair

ORANGE, Dec. 7.—Members of the auxiliary of the Veterans of the Foreign Wars were hostesses Thursday afternoon at a benefit card party, with more than 50 guests present.

Auction and contract bridge and "500" were played with prizes awarded to Mrs. George Carlson and Mrs. Anna Slater. Refreshments of home made cake and coffee were served by the committee in charge of the affair, Mrs. Ethel Bodell, Mrs. Glen Reck, Mrs. Rose Minton and Mrs. Myra Groves. Decorations were expressive of the Yuletide season.

GIRL RESERVES HOLD CEREMONY SUNDAY NIGHT

ORANGE, Dec. 7.—Final plans for the grammar school Girl Reserves' recognition service to be held Sunday evening at 7 o'clock in the First Christian church were made Thursday evening during a meeting of the inter-club council held in the Y. W. C. A. headquarters.

Four clubs under the direction of their leaders will take part in the services, the Villa Park triangle, led by Mrs. Kathryn Kamps and Miss Dorothy Bartley; the sixth grade triangle led by Mrs. F. R. Valentine; the seventh grade triangle led by Miss Margaret Todd, and the eighth grade triangle led by Mrs. Henry Joost. A chorus composed of members of the Villa Park group will sing, "These Things Shall Be," while Miss Virginia Claypool and Miss Betty Doncaster will sing a duet entitled, "God Is a Spirit."

A candle lighting service will be led by Miss Mary Cagle, president of the council. The Rev. Franklin Minck, pastor of the church, will deliver the message of the evening, speaking on the subject, "World Fellowship In Christ."

Miss Lavinia Compton, local G. R. secretary, has urged that all girls attend a processional practice at the church Saturday morning at 9 o'clock.

It was voted during the council meeting to hold the next meeting January 8. Members of the council present were the Misses Mary Cagle, Janet Sutherland, Louise Shadowen, Shirley Lan Franco, Mary Beth Newcomb, Ruth Disbennett, Wanda Martin, Maxine Davis, Virginia Elijah and Suzanne Huff.

MRS. HANDLEY BECOMES BRIDE OF C. R. PESLEY

ORANGE, Dec. 7.—Friends of Mrs. Clara Browne Handley will be interested to learn of her marriage to Clarence R. Pesley, of Los Angeles, the ceremony taking place at Yuma, Ariz., September 1. Mrs. Handley is a teacher in the Olive Grammar school, where she has served on the teaching staff for the past 11 years. Mr. Pesley is employed by a firm of contractors.

The bride was educated in the Orange schools and graduated from the Orange Union High school in 1919. Later she attended the Pomona college, completing her education at the University of California at Los Angeles. The bridegroom graduated from the Orange Union High school in 1918 and later attended Occidental college.

Both bride and bridegroom are from pioneer Orange county families. The former is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Browne, of this city, and the latter is the son of Mrs. Jean E. Pesley, who served as one of the first P. T. A. presidents of the county when a parent-teacher association was organized in Fullerton.

Mr. and Mrs. Pesley have established their home in Santa Ana at 507 East 20th street.

Have you found the
on your grocer's shelf?

It's a delicious ready-to-eat cereal.
Millions of Americans have found
Kellogg's ALL-BRAN a safe, effective means of correcting common constipation—the kind caused by lack of "bulk" in the menu.

Laboratory measurements show that ALL-BRAN provides "bulk" to aid elimination. ALL-BRAN also supplies vitamin B and iron.

The "bulk" in this tempting cereal is more effective than that found in fruits and vegetables—because it resists digestion better.
Within the body, it absorbs moisture, and forms a soft mass. Gently, this cleans out the intestinal waste.

Isn't this natural food better than taking patent medicines? Two table-spoonsful of ALL-BRAN daily are usually sufficient. Chronic cases with each meal. If this fails to give relief, see your doctor.

Enjoy ALL-BRAN as a cereal, or cook into appetizing recipes.
Kellogg's ALL-BRAN contains much more needed "bulk" than part-bran products.
In the red-and-green package. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

One Great Roof

Here with one stop you can find everything in foods imaginable with a large variety of stands from which to choose, get your postal service (stamps, money orders, registry, etc.), a fine meal, have your hair cut, your shoes cleaned or repaired, clothes cleaned and pressed, watch repaired and many other items that ordinarily would call for many stops and parking worries. Our free parking lot on First street is always available to our customers. Red cap boys are available on busy days to carry your purchases to your car regardless of where it is parked.

Our many years of honest advertising, fair dealing and strict observance of sanitary and pure food requirements have convinced thousands of thrifty shoppers that they simply can't go wrong when shopping here, and that the biggest portion of their money is spent with home people who are citizens and

WESTMINSTER

WESTMINSTER, Dec. 7.—A. G. Snow and Robert Walker have completed the remodeling of the Sheraton Penhall residence, made necessary by an increase of tenants.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Elliott are entertaining their son, Bob Elliott, and family, of Pasadena.

J. P. Ward has moved from Westminster to Bala.

Miss Sara Louise Ostot will dance Friday evening at a club meeting in Santa Ana.

The big balloon sailed on real fast. "Say, how long will this fine trip last?" asked Goldy. "I just hope we sail along for hours and hours."

"Right now, the sky is nice and clear, and it is pleasant being here. Of course, I would feel different, if we ran into showers."

"Don't worry," Jack Frost's helper said. "I'm sure there is no rain ahead. We might run into snow, however, but that would be fun."

"How long 'twill take, I cannot say, but, long as we are on our way, we'll have to all be patient. There is naught else to be done."

So, on they sailed, with not a peep, till Duncy said, "I need some sleep. I guess I'll flop, down in the basket. Wake me, after while."

"Oh, you're a lazy lad, once more," said Goldy. "Don't you dare to snore. You'll scare our big balloon away." This made the Tynmies smile.

All of a sudden Coppy cried, "Oh, look! A monstrous bird I've spied. What is he doing 'way up here? That's what I'd like to know."

"Just soaring 'round," said Dotty. "He is just as graceful as can be. I'll betcha he can't sail along as fast as we can go."

"Oh, yes, he can," wee Scouty said. "He still is with us over-head. And now he's darting down this way. Perhaps we want to land."

"Make room for him. He'll be a pet, and quite a friendly sort, I'll bet. I wish I had a little food to feed him from my hand."

The bird, however, played a trick. He reached the big balloon real quick and started pecking at the bag. This made brave Coppy shout!

"Hey, get away from here, you pest!" And then he turned to all the rest and cried, "He's pecked a great big hole. The air is coming out!"

Pacific Flyer

A non-stop flight from Los Angeles to Tokyo, Japan, in 37 hours is planned by Monty G. Mason, California pilot. Mason will pilot the Flying Wing, designed and built by the late Claire Vance.

Waves Hatchet Of Carrie Nation

Another Kansas woman, Mrs. May Frazee, above, has snatched up the hatchet from where the militant Carrie Nation laid it down and is heading a brigade of 50 women pledged to keep the state dry, using hatchets on illegal bars if necessary, following the recent prohibition election victory. Mrs. Frazee is head of the Arkansas City W. C. T. U.

Guarded After Kidnap Threat

A close guard was maintained over Miss Evangeline Davey, 23, above, only daughter of Governor-elect Martin L. Davey of Ohio, after threats to kidnap her were received. The threats were laid to underworld leaders trying to force certain appointments by her father.

Double Slayer Quizzed on Crime

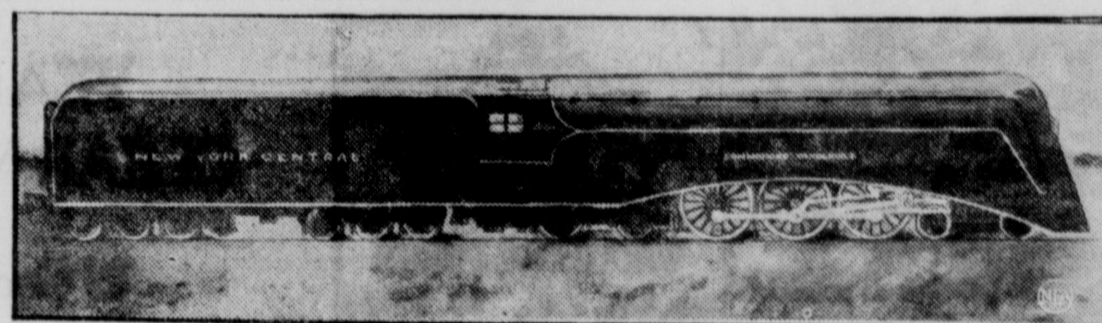

Still in a daze after confessing a double murder, Joseph Steinmetz, 22, Los Angeles divinity student, is shown here at right as he was questioned on the crime by Saul Price, New York assistant district attorney. Price holds the gun with which Steinmetz admits he slew his wife, formerly Ruth Armstrong, 17, Hollywood movie aspirant, and the Rev. Joseph Leonard, Lawrenceville, N. J., Roman Catholic priest, when Steinmetz found them together in the priest's room in a New York hotel.

Annette's All in a Lather; Heaviest of Dionnes Now

Little Annette Dionne is all exuberance, poised to go right away from there, but she won't escape from her nurse till she's been scrubbed to a rosy hue, part of the unfailing routine through which the quintuplets go every day in their hospital-home in Corbell, Ont. Annette can be pardoned for bubbling with joy, for the other day she tipped the scales at 11 pounds 2 1/4 ounces to pass Yvonne, long the heaviest of the babies, in the quintuplets' weight race.

First Streamline Steam Locomotive Faces Test Soon

This first streamlined high power steam locomotive soon will be given a series of tests by the New York Central railroad to demonstrate the rail line's faith in steam, despite recent advances in Diesel-powered locomotives in the west. The engine, named the Commodore Vanderbilt, after founder of the road, is streamlined to cut air resistance 35 per cent at a speed of 70 to 90 miles an hour.

Jay Gould's Kin To Wed Ohioan

Marjorie Gould Drexel, above, New York beauty and great-granddaughter of Jay Gould, famous financier of the past century, will marry John Murton Gundry, son of a Cleveland, O., banking family, Miss Drexel's father, Anthony J. Drexel, Jr., has announced.

In "First Grandmother" Role

Even the little stranger she is holding, a patient in the babies ward of Post Graduate Hospital in New York, recognized Mrs. James Roosevelt, the President's mother, as the "First Grandmother" of the land. The baby reaches out to cling to the lady with that friendly smile. Mrs. Roosevelt visited the ward in connection with a benefit, having been actively interested in the hospital's work since the death of an infant grandson.

Seeks Safety Behind Bars

Arthur Fliegenheimer, the famous "Dutch" Schultz of New York's pre-repeal liquor racketeers, cowers behind the bars in Albany, N. Y., in fear of his fast shooting "friends." For a few moments, during arraignment on income tax charges, he thought that authorities were about to free him to face his foes. He's shown here as he returned to his cell, held under $100,000 bail—and he won't attempt to raise it.

Link Slain Girls With Woman

Bus drivers provided two of the first links leading to the identification of the three girls found dead in the woods near Carlisle, Pa. At top, Earl Sylvester reports the girls and a woman companion rode with him; below, Paul W. White, who identified the woman slain near Altoona as the girls' companion.

Shirley Temple's Rival

Look for this vivacious 3-year-old "baby star" to capture much of the glory in which curly-haired Shirley Temple deservedly is basking. The little girl is Baby Jane Quigley, who has made such a hit in her very first picture that her sponsors have signed her to a five-year contract. You get a good view of her above, and see what a fine luncheon hostess she plays, below, to Dan Thomas.

Here's What's Known as a Royal Welcome!

The royal welcome is, after all, a hearty kiss. At left, the Duke of Kent is portrayed in osculatory greeting with Princess Marina on her arrival at Dover for their wedding, and right, King George bestows a royal kiss on a member of Marina's party, which included her mother, Princess Nicholas of Greece.

Obeys Judge's Decree

As Judge Carew had ordered, 10-year-old Gloria Vanderbilt was taken to church last Sunday. In St. Joseph's Catholic Church at Garden City, L. I., she revealed by her misdeeds that she was not familiar with the ritual of the mass. Above she is shown emerging after services, during which she made a $10 donation, followed by her aunt-custodian, Mrs. Harry Payne Whitney, and accompanied by a private detective.

Though the Cock Crow Early, We Will Never, Never Frenchmen Be!

The Saar, rich coal and iron territory between Germany and France, is seething with political activity aimed at winning the people in next January's plebiscite. They will decide then whether to cast their lot with Germany or France, or remain under a League of Nations commission, as at present. Above is a group of German Nazi propagandists with a placard asserting (as translated in the heading over the picture) that despite any efforts of the French government, Saar citizens will never be French.

SMALL BUT GOOD

You should see the young trees on this 5 acres. They are not yet 2 years old but you wouldn't guess it. Soil, rich loam, and deep, a pumping plant interest, and also a modern 5-room house—that is, fairly modern. You'll have a lot of respect for such trees because you can expect everything from them. $5000 takes it; terms.

DOG CEASES TO BITE MAN AND IT IS FRONT PAGE NEWS

The Congress of American Industry, in a meeting in New York, has announced itself desirous of co-operating with the federal government in its recovery program.

It is rather remarkable that during these various meetings and conventions of manufacturers and industrialists are being held and most of them are inclined toward the position that they would be understood, at least, to be in favor of co-operating with the president. The news goes out from these conventions as consisting of the fact, namely, that there is this determination now to co-operate.

It certainly is strange. The rest of us have been co-operating since the 4th of March, 1933, when the president was inaugurated. In season and out of season we have supported his leadership because there was no other leadership and there was no other way.

It wouldn't be news to announce that the people over the country generally have determined to support the president, because that has been their regular and well-known attitude. But it is first page news when the industrialists and bankers come out with that suggestion.

We then read more carefully just how they make this utterance. This is its language, as passed in a resolution at the meeting yesterday:

The Congress of American industry is conscious of the high obligation of industry to co-operate effectively with every SOUND effort of the administration to meet and overcome the economic crisis that confronts the nation.

We just can't quite see how this is any more co-operation with the administration than from many of that group from the beginning. They have criticized nearly everything the administration has done, they have made it exceedingly difficult to put it in operation and they have done so because they believed it was economically unsound.

If they had found anything, which, in their way of thinking, was sound, they were supporting it. That is, they were supporting anything with which they agreed. They were opposing that with which they disagreed.

Now, with a great blare of trumpets, they say they have come to the conclusion that they are going to support the "sound" policies of the administration. They certainly do not confess they have changed any attitude, for surely none of them would contend that they had been opposing the sound policies of the president.

Of course, we know that there were some things which many, if not all of them, opposed, which they have concluded were sound. This is particularly true of the bankers of the country and more true of the Eastern "big" bankers. Secretary Roper aided in bringing the convention to the frame of mind where they would at least publicly declare that they were going to support the "good" things that the president was doing.

In addressing the convention, it was generally understood, of course, that Mr. Roper was representing the president, and it is well for us to know, therefore, that Mr. Roper emphasized that business and government must work co-operatively in the program of recovery.

He declared that to achieve this, it would be necessary to restore relief responsibilities and administration to states and localities in order to relieve the Federal government; that we must open foreign markets without injuring domestic industry.

He said that we must prepare suggestions and recommendations looking to the preservation of workable and successful features of the National Recovery administration, and that we must seek every possible means to relieve and re-employ capital. He declared we must plan a public works program of worth-while projects not conflicting with private business and private enterprise and devise a plan of unemployment reserves without penalizing the business program.

These suggestions of Secretary Roper really embody the very statements of criticism which these industrialists have been using on the administration, in the statements of the way recovery could be brought about. We doubt seriously if we are in much better position, if any, to carry these things on now by private enterprise, than we were a year ago.

It is all well enough to say that the states and localities should now assume the responsibility for the needy and the unemployed. But what has given us any more ability to do it than we had when the federal government took it off our hands by necessity?

We hope, however, withal, that the industrialists will be more charitable and broadminded in their determination of what is "sound" and what is not, in the future, than we believe them to have been in the last year and a half.

MONEY LEFT TO PROSECUTORS BY IRONY OF FATE

Ludwig Dreyfuss was a Manhattan Jew. His mother home was Mannheim, Germany. He became prosperous in New York, but his heart that Germany and in his will he provided native-born should be used for the poor of his Drey.

delay in 1918 and there has been by the will out of the provisions of the will that the Jews, have made Dreyfuss' portion, driven by the relentless persecutions of the exile, confiscated the property of the Jews, passed rules and regulations for the Jews, and with the attitude of the Jews, remain that this money shall be spent for the poor of his Drey.

native city. He never thought, at the time he made the will, nor at the time of his death, of these people being the enemies of his race—he was a German—Mannheim was his native city. He loved its memory and its people. He remembered them in the solemn hour when he was determining on how he should distribute that which good fortune had permitted him to accumulate.

So he put that provision in this document. Isn't it the irony of fate—isn't it a contrast of intention and spirit? The thought of this money being transferred to Mannheim or any other place in Germany, for the use of the people who have turned persecutors, is revolting to all those who are interested in Dreyfuss and his purpose.

It shocks their conscience to think how this almost thwarts the real purpose of Dreyfuss rather than carrying it out. They have objected to the court carrying out this provision, but the ruling of the court is that the language of the will must be observed. The $25,000 must be used for Mannheim's poor.

There was no provision in this will that it should be used for the Jewish poor of Mannheim, but for Mannheim's poor. There was no discrimination, in his mind, between the Jews and the Aryans. There must be some consolation, however, in the minds of those who are executing the will, that it wasn't left to Germany's poor.

In that case, Hitler himself would have the power to distribute it. Maybe he will, even under the present stipulation.

OHIO GROUP TAKES UP MATTER OF MILITARY TRAINING

In Columbus, Ohio, on the second and third of this month, there was a conference of the Fellowship of Reconciliation.

They have before the people of Ohio the same question of compulsory military drill in the state university as they have in our own state of California. The decision of the courts, in respect to this compulsion, is that the trustees or regents can lay down their own rules for the regulation and conduct, discipline and teaching of the students.

These trustees are privileged to make military drills compulsory; they are privileged to permit it to be optional. The resolution which this body passed is clear and pointed upon this proposition and we are printing it herewith:

We, citizens of Ohio, representing some 25 of its communities, assembled on the campus of our state university at a state Conference of the Fellowship of Reconciliation, wish to register with our host, the board of trustees of the university, our protest against the peace time conscription of young men as represented in the present system of compulsory drill under the auspices of the university.

Believing, as we do, that conflicts between classes or between nations are resolved not by armed violence but by active goodwill and reconciliation, and being willing ourselves to accept the material consequences of this policy, we feel it to be unjust that Ohio young people, seeking an education at their state university, should be discriminated against because they wish to make a similar choice in regard to military training and its philosophy of violence. Therefore we appeal to the university trustees that, in the light of the interpretation by the Attorney General of the United States regarding the Morrill Act for Land Grant colleges, they exercise their right as trustees to grant exemption to conscientious objectors; and that they take whatever steps are necessary in this state to abolish the compulsory feature of military training in Ohio State University.

A motion was made to send this out to the board of trustees of the university and to the press.

Westward Course of Brains

San Francisco Chronicle
Now that the brain trust is very much in the public eye, the old question has been revived as to what States produce the best brain crop.

Henry Cabot Lodge started it years ago when, after an examination of Appleton's Cyclopaedia of American Biography, he found the five leading brain producing states were Massachusetts, New York, Pennsylvania, Connecticut and Virginia. Many objections were raised to the method—that New Englanders had pretty much of a monopoly on publishing, that the Northern Civil war heroes were given disproportionate space and also New England poets, churchmen and industrial leaders found it too easy to win the bays of immortality.

But now comes Dumas Malone, chief editor of the Dictionary of American Biography, now in the course of publication, and announces in the current Atlantic Monthly that his own material to date confirms Lodge's order of champion States, but with a percentage decline from 66 2-3 to less than 50.

There is further hope for the West. In fact, westward the course of brain culturing is taking its way. The biography publications included only the dead. Checked by the live ones—or supposedly live ones—in "Who's Who" Nebraska takes third place and Kansas fifth as the birthplace of the famous, according to population. California stands third among the States in the number of residents included in the latest "Who's Who," but eighteenth in those born here.

Pitfalls for Interpreters

New York Times
The splendid new buildings in Central Park, like over the country, will make an awful lot of trouble for the historians several hundred years from now. They will say that American prosperity up to the year 1929 was registered in cloud-piercing skyscrapers and magnificent high schools, but it soared to new heights in the next decade.

How prosperous the people of New York were in the years 1932-34, the historians will say, we can gather from the simple fact that they treated themselves to a million-dollar messagerie. Up to 1929 the old wooden buildings in the Zoo were good enough for them. By 1934 they were so enormously rich that nothing but brick collegiate architecture would do. Historical interpretation has its hazards.

More Truth Than Poetry

LINES BY A PUZZLED ANGLER

When told that trout, with avid greed,
Would take both hooks and lines
If they were but allowed to feed
On nice fresh vittamines,
I said, "I've found a means at last
To catch these crafty fish:
My worries now are done and past—
Those trout will be my dish."

So then I wandered up and down
Exulting and elate,
But not a meat shop in the town
Kept vittamines for bait.
I tried the local druggist next
Who sometimes sells me wines,
But he was troubled and perplexed—
He had no vittamines.

I had a long and weary chase,
I've covered miles of ground,
But never yet have seen a place
Where these things could be found.
And when I walk inside a store
The owners grin and say,
"We do not keep them anymore,"
Or "Not a one today."

The fishing season has been closed,
The trout will rise no more,
Long have my trusty rods reposed
Behind the pantry door,
But in the Spring, when flies and lines
Once more are taken out,
I'll find, somewhere, some vittamines,
And then I'll land a trout.

Thoughts On Modern Life

BY GLEN FRANK

A GOVERNING CLASS FLUNKS

A governing class is essential if the life of a people is to have coherence, stability and meaning. I do not mean a governing class in the sense of an hereditary caste. I mean a governing class in the sense of that constant group, with changing personnel, in which the genius for national guidance is found in concentrated form.

And the more democratic a nation becomes the more imperative becomes the necessity for a governing class.

A governing class, if it is to govern handsomely, must possess two things, viz:

- (1) Power.
- (2) Philosophy.

I mean by this that a governing class must not only possess the necessary power to govern or direct the national trend, but must possess also a sound and sustained sense of what its acts are doing to the nation's life as a whole and of the direction the development of the nation's life should take.

If a governing class possesses these two things, it does not matter much whether the governing class is made up of the nation's economic leadership or of the nation's political leadership.

For a long time now we have had a very definite governing class in the United States. This governing class has been made up of the business men, industrialists and financiers. I mean by that that what they have done has determined the major changes that have come upon our civilization, giving us a kind of life and society utterly unlike the life and society in terms of which the basic patterns and institutions of our government were formed. This governing class of ours has, unhappily, possessed only one of the two requisites for a great governing class. It has possessed power. But it has tragically lacked a philosophy of national life.

Our governing class of business men, industrialists, and financiers has been so busy perfecting the mechanisms of manufacture and exchange that they have paid little or no attention to what their acts were doing to the nation's life.

They have been, in short, a governing class without a philosophy of government.

This, and not the ambitions of bureaucrats, is the real reason why government is today invading the zone of private enterprise to an extent that would have been thought impossible a quarter century ago.

The results we may get from trading the business men for the politicians as our governing class, but it seems so clear to me that the people will not forever leave the governance of its life in the hands of a class that is content to turn revolutionary forces of change loose year by year, as the business men, industrialists, and financiers have been doing, with seemingly no concern for what these forces will do to the lives of the millions.

Unless business men get a philosophy of national life, business will inevitably be taken out of their hands.

"NO, DEAR"

"I think I'll take my sweater along and go to the football game straight from school instead of coming home first, Mother."

"No, dear. Come straight home from school. That's the best way. Always."

"If I do that it means Franco will have to wait for me, and he can't wait. He's got to go with the team. What good will it do if I come home first? I'm going right out again, am I not?"

"I really don't know. But you must come home first."

Bernice shut her mouth tight, and soon left for the afternoon session of high school. She picked up her heavy sweater as she left the house, a fact that her mother discovered hours afterward. When the students were dismissed from classes and headed themselves almost in a body toward the football field she was among them. She stayed for the end of the game, went for a bit of lunch afterwards and then went home.

There was a storm, of course. Mother was excited, frightened and angry. Bernice was stubbornly silent.

"Where have you been? You mean to tell me that after all I said you went to the game without coming home to let me know where you were, and me worrying all this time. You are a fine daughter. You ought to be ashamed of yourself. After all I do, after all the care I take of you, the love I lavish on you, this is my reward."

Bernice bowed her head to the storm and kept her own counsel. She was probably thinking, "You knew very well where I was. If you had not insisted upon my doing something that was entirely unnecessary but which made it almost impossible for me to go to the game, nothing like this would have happened. As it is, you spoiled my afternoon and gave yourself a mean one. I can't help it if you insist upon being selfish and unreasonable."

If she thought that she came rather close to the truth. Adolescent children have gone by the day when authority and imposed obedience will serve to control their conduct. That kind of control belongs in the early days when the children are not able to direct themselves. After the onset of adolescence they must be guided as impersonally as possible and with respect to their personal tastes and wishes. One has to depend upon the teaching done in the beginning and trust to the children for the rest.

Did you ever stop to reason out why you said, "No, dear"? Usually you will discover that you said "No" because the "No" if it prevailed, would make you more comfortable. Maybe it would hold the child close to you, maybe it would save you trouble or anxiety. Maybe it would gratify your desire for power and please your vanity in other ways. Not too often is it the unselfish desire to strengthen and develop the child's character. Adolescent children can brook few No's. One must have a sound reason for pronouncing any. If the early teaching has been sound and the child's experiences with the parents' decisions pleasant ones, there is no need for so many "No's."

(Mr. Patri will give personal attention to inquiries from parents and school teachers on the care and development of children. Write him in care of this paper, enclosing a three-cent stamped, addressed envelope for reply.)
